G. O. P. FLANKS DEMOCRATS IN TAX CUT FIGHT

Threaten Delay Till After March 15.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—In agreeing today to a delay in tax reduction until after March 15, next, unless the reduction be kept within the $225,000,000 recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, the Coolidge administration and the Republican leadership in the senate executed a flank movement on the Democrats and affiliated Republicans who caused the house to toss the Mellon program into the ash can and who are threatening similar action in the senate.

The move constitutes also a challenge to the chamber of commerce of the United States, the powerful influence of which has been exerted in behalf of a $400,000,000 reduction with the effect of eliciting from President Coolidge several stinging rebukes of the organization.

Another Card Up Sleeve.

The administration still has another card up its sleeve to play in support of the Mellon program. This is a threat by the President to veto the bill if the reduction should exceed the $225,000,000 limit fixed by Mellon. In the Mellon letter, which President Coolidge sanctioned, is construed a matter of notice on all concerned that a reduction in excess of that limit will be vetoed. The bi-partisan combination in the house succeeded in boosting the reduction to $290,000,000 and the Democrats propose to raise it to $300,000,000.

The postponement move, which matured when the treasury made public correspondence between Secretary Mellon and Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee, is widely attributed to the political sagacity of President Coolidge. The effect will be to build a back fence against the Democrats, affiliating Republicans, the chamber of commerce and other elements of the opposition to the Mellon program.

Those interests to which it is important to know the new tax rates at the earliest possible moment will fight against postponement of the legislation until after the first payment of 1927 taxes on March 15 and will exert pressure on the Democrats and allied Republicans to abandon their fight to agree to immediate enactment of the tax reduction not exceeding $225,000,000.

Apply to 1927 Earnings.

If the reduction legislation should be delayed until after the first tax payment on March 15 it still would apply to 1927 earnings and the only effect would be to necessitate a readjustment of the later installments to conform with the changed rates. Nevertheless the tendency would be to defer business to mark time pending the outcome of the new corporation and individual tax rates and the eagerly anticipated business revival of 1928 would be correspondingly delayed. These circumstances will react powerfully in favor of an abandonment of the fight on the administration program.

The Democrats are now placed in a position of staking on a gamble the chances of making political capital out of the tax reduction bill. If they persist in their present course and force postponement of tax reduction until after March 15, they then will win or lose according to the volume of income tax revenue from 1927 earnings indicated by the first installment payment.

If it appears that 1927 taxes will exceed vastly higher than the treasury and the larger reduction urged by the Democrats will be found justified the Democrats will triumph over the administration. But if it is found on March 15 that 1927 taxes have fallen as a result of the slackening of business this year the administration proposal to keep the reduction at $225,000,000 will be vindicated and the Democrats will be out of luck.

Might Discredit Them.

Instead of gaining political capital, the Democrats would be discredited. They would find the question raised whether the Democrats might safely be entrusted with the financing of the government as they hope to be after 1928.

Time before the Democrats fought the Mellon tax program and beat it with the aid of the Republican radicals in the spring of 1924. To that unholy alliance the Democrats attributed their overwhelming defeat in the ensuing presidential election and they returned chastened to the next congress. Now they must decide whether to go through with the fight they have be-

AMBASSADOR MORROW PREFERS THE LINDBERGH DIPLOMACY TO THE OLD STYLE

Dawes Dines Thompson and City Bankers

BY PARKE BROWN.

Charles G. Dawes, Vice President of the United States and Presidential potentiality, sat almost shoulder to shoulder yesterday with Mayor William Hale Thompson at a luncheon where a list of the guests would have looked like a financial blue book of Chicago.

Gen. Dawes gave the luncheon on the third floor of the Central Trust company's building in honor of S. Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations under the Dawes plan. Mayor Thompson was one of his speakers. The guests included bank and railroad presidents, heads of mercantile and utility companies, corporation lawyers and newspaper editors.

Situation Stirs Comment.

There never has been any political sympathy between the host of the occasion and his municipal guest, but this new relationship, this appearance in close association, this extension of the hand of fellowship before so distinguished a gathering of Chicago's financial and business leadership started comment that spread rapidly after the luncheon.

It took definite form despite the Vice President's announcement at Washington some time ago that he was not a candidate for the presidency and intended to support Frank O. Lowden. And it persisted in spite of his unqualified statement last evening that there was no politics in the affair.

No Politics, Dawes Says.

"It was a luncheon I gave for Parker Gilbert," said the general, "and I invited the mayor to extend the city's greetings. There was no politics in it."

But other men at the luncheon saw the beginning of big possibilities in what they had witnessed.

"Mayor Thompson has said two definite things about presidential candidates," they analyzed. "He has said that he is for Coolidge just as long as there is a chance that the President will accept. And he has said that he is against Lowden even to such an extent that he himself will run in Illinois if Lowden does.

View Mayor's Support Likely.

"With Gen. Dawes not a candidate there is nothing that can be done at this time. But it is entirely likely that Thompson will support President Coolidge in the convention as long as any material vote is cast for him, and that then he will throw whatever strength he has to Dawes."

This theorizing reached the politicians late in the day and they recalled a yarn that was circulated several months ago when Gov. Len Small opened his negotiations with Mayor Thompson in reference to their uniting in support of a joint slate of candidates for delegates to the Republican convention.

William Lorimer, former United States senator, was one of the chief factors in bringing Small and Thompson together on that occasion and it was not much later that Lorimer was quoted as saying on La Salle street:

"You needn't worry one bit about Small and Thompson getting together on the delegates. They'll be for Dawes when the time comes."

Mayor Thompson, interviewed last evening, said he did not see any political significance in the luncheon. The mayor made an informal speech about the world's fair for 1933.

Guests at the Luncheon.

Hugo F. Simon, German consul general at Chicago; Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder, former minister to Cuba, and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana also were special guests of Gen. Dawes. Among the others present were the following:

Samuel Insull.	W. C. Boyden.
James A. Patten.	Alexander H. Revell
Julius Rosenwald	M. C. Meigs.
Arthur Reynolds	Louis Eckstein
John A. Lynch	C. H. Bosworth
Frank O. Wetmore	Gen. Milton J. Foreman.
Melvin A. Traylor	Walter A. Strong.
Joseph E. Otis.	D. F. Kelly.

W. R. Dawes	Harry L. Stuart.
David R. Forgan	Henry A. Haugen.
Col. Robert R. McCormick.	Jacob M. Dickinson.
John T. McCutcheon	Walter H. Wilson.

In presenting Mr. Gilbert, Vice President Dawes explained that since it was impossible for the guest of honor to speak publicly about his duties, he, the host, had recognised they all would like to meet him and talk privately, perhaps, and that therefore he had arranged the luncheon.

Charge Doctor with Murder of Rich Woman

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 30.—(AP)—[Friday.]—Dr. Charles M. McMillan, a physician, was arrested here last night charged with slaying Mrs. Amelia Appleby, whose body was found sewed in a canvas sack near the Mulholland drive, just outside the city limits, Monday.

The arrest was made by the homicide squad of the sheriff's office. The arresting officers declared they found McMillan in his apartment with all of Mrs. Appleby's private papers spread out on a sheet on the floor. They declared he was going over these papers when they entered the apartment.

The woman was known to have possessed valuable property, including an apartment house in Chicago, and the officers said the motive was the desire of her accused slayer to obtain title to this. Police declared that Dr. McMillan and Mrs. Appleby had been friendly for some time and that they made a trip east last summer.

COUNCIL GROUP O. K.'S NEW CLARK, WABASH BRIDGES

Ready cash for the construction of two new bridges, one at Wabash avenue and the other at Clark street, was made available last night by the city council's finance committee in preparing the city's 1928 bond issue budget. Work on the two spans probably will begin this year.

The bridges were the two most important new projects in a list of twenty for which the committee voted to release money, totaling approximately $40,000,000.

Unless the committee's action is reversed by the council, the entire $40,000,000 worth of bonds, all of which have been authorized by the voters, may be sold as fast as the various city departments complete plans for the projects.

FIRST BOMBED, THEN SEIZED AS BEER SELLERS

There is no beer this morning in Bob Bushor's bachelor flat at 5147 Lake Park avenue. There was some last night, but what the bomb didn't get the police did.

Bushor was washing a shirt at the kitchen sink when a heavy charge of explosive was set off just outside the window. He was blown into the next room.

Lieut. Michael Grady sent a patrol wagon to the scene. The police found a hundred quarts of beer and took possession. Bushor and Albert Smith, who also lives in the flat, were arrested and will be turned over to the government today.

PANAMA INVITES COOLIDGE AS IT AWAITS LINDY

French Aces Due at Canal Soon.

BULLETIN.

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The Tropical Radio Telegraph company announced today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Guatemala at 6:25 a. m. (central standard time.)

PANAMA CITY, Dec. 29.—Panama is proposing to invite President Coolidge to visit here following the Pan-American conference at Havana next month. President Chiari called a cabinet meeting and an invitation is being prepared, which it is hoped will be accepted, especially while the American enthusiasm here is high in anticipation of the visit of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

A high Canal Zone official said President Coolidge is within forty hours of Havana and 20,000 Americans would honor the day the President viewed America's great canal.

Panama is preparing energetically to welcome Col. Lindbergh. While the welcome will be warm, President Chiari has planned that the colonel's six days will be tempered with many restful intervals, following his hurried visits to other Central American states. He is expected here about Jan. 10.

Await French Aces, Too.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Dec. 29.—Residents of the Canal Zone and the republic of Panama have hopes of entertaining three trans-Atlantic flyers at the same time.

Col. Charles Lindbergh will leave Guatemala City tomorrow in continuation of his Central American flight. The French aces, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Le Brix, heroes of the nonstop flight across the South Atlantic from West Africa to Brasil, left La Paz, Bolivia, this morning for Lima, Peru. It is hoped they will reach here in time to be entertained along with Col. Lindbergh before they resume their flight to New York.

Guatemala Fetes Flyer.

GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Time is too fleeting for the bestowal of all the honors which Guatemala desires to shower on Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

His official day began at ten o'clock this morning, when he paid a visit to the presidential palace to pay his respects to the president, Gen. Lazaro Chacon. At the municipal palace Col. Lindbergh received a scroll apprising him in terms of deepest cordiality that he was the guest of honor of the city. Then the chamber of commerce took him in hand. There followed a reception at the American legation and later he was entertained by Rotarians.

Gets Medal of Army.

The Guatemalan army paid him particular tribute by conferring upon him the "grand medal of merit." For a short time Col. Lindbergh wore this on his coat, but it is soon to find its way among the scores of other decorations which have been conferred upon him.

Col. Lindbergh said tonight he would leave for Belize, British Honduras, early tomorrow morning. If he lands there he will leave on Sunday for San Salvador, leave San Salvador Tuesday for Tegucigalpa, leave Thursday for Managua, Saturday for Costa Rica, and Monday for Panama. If he does not land at Belize he will continue to San Salvador tomorrow, and on Sunday will continue his tour.

Mrs. Lindbergh in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, returning to Detroit from Mexico City, where she spent Christmas with her son, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, landed at Lambert-St. Louis field at 2:35 p. m. today after a flight from San Antonio and remained overnight.

Plans had been made to continue to Chicago before dark, but these were canceled when adverse weather reports were received from Springfield and Peoria, Ill.

French Flyers Reach Lima.

Dry Agents Dismantle Famous N. Y. Night Club

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Chez Helen Morgan, one of New York's most gorgeous night clubs, was dismantled by federal prohibition agents early today after they arrested Miss Morgan and eight male employes, seized a dozen bottles of liquid, and spent two and one-half hours questioning 350 guests.

Demand Lake Be Purged of Calumet Waste

Thousands of Chicagoans in all parts of the city yesterday drank bitter and ill-smelling water, tainted by sewage dumped into the lower end of Lake Michigan and swept into the municipal cribs by a strong southeast wind.

A deluge of complaints continued to pour in last night from as far north as Howard street, whereas on Wednesday evening most of them were confined to the far south side. City officials said that it was the first time the Indiana wastes have polluted the lake further north than the loop district. To make the water safe, it was heavily chlorinated at all pumping stations.

Water Is Termed Vile.

"Absolutely vile," "tastes like quinine and tar," "fills the house with stench," and "makes us sick at the stomach" were some of the descriptive reports reaching the city health and water departments during the day.

Officials in both departments, however, issued statements asserting positively that the water, regardless of its taste, is perfectly safe to drink. Every possible precaution is being taken to prevent the danger of illness, the dosage of chlorine at several pumping stations having been doubled and tripled. The usual dosage of 2 pounds per 1,000,000 was boosted to 12 to 14 pounds at the Thompson station, 49th street and Western avenue.

City Engineer Loren D. Gayton was confident last night that the water would be normal again today.

Reaches North Side

"Strong southeast winds caused the trouble," he said. "Wastes from the Calumet river were blown north and reached the 68th street and Dunne cribs Wednesday night and by morning the taint had reached other pumping stations. Some of the stuff seems to have gone as far as Wilson avenue. Hence the complaints from the loop and north sides."

Last night the wind had shifted north and although part of the sewage may drift back and reënter the south side cribs today, Mr. Gayton predicted that it will be in much smaller quantities than before. He announced that his entire staff of sanitary and filtration engineers, headed by A. E. Gorman, is at work taking samples and supervising the chlorinization work.

Dr. Bundesen Makes Inquiry.

Health departments of both the city and the sanitary district coöperated in the emergency by appeasing fears of the citizenry that the tainted water might cause illness and explaining how to use it with the least unpleasantness. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, new chief sanitarian for the sanitary district, was authorized by the board to make a thorough investigation and recommend remedial action.

"One way to make the water drinkable is to pour it from one vessel to another," explained Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel. "This releases the gas and some of the odor. So far as disease germs are concerned, however, there is no danger in drinking the water as it is."

But despite the official assurances that the water is safe, hundreds of persons purchased bottled water wherever it was available.

Aldermen Demand Action.

Meanwhile, prodded by the complaints of their constituents, aldermen and other city officials made a demand for action that will prevent the recurrance of the wholesale water pollution, that is, to compel the northern Indiana towns and industrial firms to immediately construct sewage treatment plants, as ordered recently by the Indiana state board of health.

"I am not a calamity howler," declared Ald. Louis B. Anderson [2d], "but there is no use kidding ourselves about this condition. There is nothing wrong with the city water department. If the Indiana towns refuse to stop making a cesspool out of the lake, then I'm for making reprisals."

HICKMAN GETS COURT DELAY; TELLS 2D MURDER

Confesses Slaying During Holdup.

BULLETIN.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Attempts to connect Welby Hunt, youthful holdup accomplice of William E. Hickman, with the kidnaping and slaying of little Marian Parker were made tonight by detectives, who were running down evidence indicating that the kidnaper had an accomplice in the crime.

The police said Hunt somewhat resembled Hickman's description of the mythical Andrew Kramer, whom the kidnaper at first accused of the girl's murder. Hunt lived in Alhambra, where Hickman took the child the day he kidnaped her.

Police have expressed doubt that the child sat alone in Hickman's parked car on the several times he said he left her in it to send telephone messages and letters.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—William Edward Hickman, confessed kidnaper and double slayer, appeared in court today and obtained a continuance to enter his plea for the murder of 12 year old Marian Parker.

The continuance was obtained by Hickman's attorney, Jerome Walsh of Kansas City, who explained he had been in the city only a few hours and wished time to study the case so he could advise his client how to plead.

Carry Shot Guns, Tear Bombs.

Policemen armed with sawed off shot guns and tear bombs guarded the courtroom of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy when Hickman was brought in. The prisoner was white faced and nervous.

As Hickman was seated Walsh arose and advised District Attorney Asa Keyes and Judge Hardy that he and his client were willing to waive the reading of the grand jury indictment charging kidnaping and murder.

"We will proceed with the reading of the indictment in due formality of law," Judge Hardy said.

Attorney Walsh then asked the court for an extension of time to plead to the charges.

"Will Saturday be sufficient time for your purposes?" the judge asked. Walsh wanted until Tuesday, and Judge Hardy acquiesced.

Lawyer Issues Statement.

Walsh informed the court that he desired to employ a Los Angeles attorney to act with him in the Hickman case. Later he issued a public statement, which said that it was his sole purpose to coöperate with the authorities so that all the facts of the case "may be fully and impartially elicited."

Crowds swarming about the courthouse and through its corridors caused the extra precautions on the part of police when Hickman was brought into court. Feeling against the youth, which flared high at his confession of the Parker girl's slaying, was accentuated by his confession this morning to a second murder and officers took all possible precautions to prevent a mob demonstration.

Involves Another Youth.

Hickman made the new confession at 4 a. m. when he wrote a detailed account of the shooting of C. Ivy Thoms, a Los Angeles druggist, during a holdup on Christmas eve, 1926. He involved another youth, Welby Hunt, 16, like himself a former Kansas City high school boy. Hickman finished his confession just before dawn. Then he went to bed and slept soundly until awakened six hours later to talk again with authorities and Attorney Walsh.

In the meantime, Hunt had been arrested. Confronted with Hickman's statement, he admitted complicity in the Thoms murder. His account, however, differed from Hickman's in some particulars. Hunt declared all the shooting in Thoms' drug store was done by Hickman, whereas his companion declared that both of them had fired their pistols. Hickman suggested to police that the autopsy records be examined to find out whether Thoms had been killed by bullets from his [Hickman's] .32 caliber pistol or Hunt's .38.

Question Hunt's Grandmother.

The authorities then brought in Mrs. A. R. Driskell of Alhambra, Hunt's grandmother. Mrs. Driskell had opened her home in the Los Angeles suburb to Hickman when he and Hunt came to the coast from Kansas City together a little over a year ago. She was questioned for some hours.

Hickman asserted in his confession that his friend's grandmother not only had been aware that the two were engaging in holdups, but also that Hunt had been wounded in the Thoms holdup. However, the grandmother succeeded in convincing her questioners that she had no knowledge of the two youths' criminal activities and she was permitted to return home.

The investigators next turned to the death of A. R. Driskell, Hunt's grandfather, concerning which both youths were questioned. Driskell's body was found beneath the Colorado street bridge in Pasadena on May 26. On the bridge was a note signed with Driskell's name which indicated that he had ended his life because of financial troubles.

At the time of Driskell's death Hickman and Hunt were both messengers in the 7th and Spring street branch of the Los Angeles First National bank, of which Perry M. Parker, father of the kidnaping victim, was assistant cashier. It was learned today that on the day of his supposed suicide Driskell had withdrawn a large sum of money from the bank in which the two youths were employed. Both denied today any knowledge of how Driskell came to his death.

Widow Identifies Slayer.

Hickman's confession of the Thoms murder came unexpectedly. Jailer Frank Dewar had been talking to him and the kidnaper expressed his appreciation of the treatment accorded him in jail. As Dewar was leaving he casually asked his prisoner, "Say did you ever kill any one else?"

"Sure," replied Hickman. "Remember that druggist at Rose Hill that was shot last December?"

He then proceeded to give the details of the crime which he later reduced to writing.

During the day the widow of the slain druggist, who was in the store at the time of the holdup, was brought in to view Hickman. She failed to recognize him at first. Then, as he was brought under a stronger light, she exclaimed, "My God! That's the man!" and fainted.

The confession by Hickman that he committed the Thoms holdup and murder was made public after Hunt's arrest.

"We needed money, and that afternoon we saw this place as we drove by, and we said we would come back and get it that night," the statement said.

Policeman Starts Shooting.

"When we came back that night we had masks and we entered the store and told the man and the woman that were in there to hold up their hands and go toward the back. There were two or three customers in the store and we made all these people go back toward the back.

"There were two doors in the back of the store, one on each side, and my partner (Hunt) went through the door to the right. Welby Hunt backed the druggist and his wife ahead of him and I went through the door to the left with the customers.

"When we got in the back we saw the officer of the law standing in the rear and I called Welby to take his gun as I had my gun on him, but before he attempted this the officer wheeled about in a position just opposite me. He started firing his gun at me and just at the same time I started firing at him—and Welby started firing. I was firing directly at the policeman as far as I knew, and I judged that Welby was firing at the policeman.

"When several shots had been fired and only a few seconds elapsed we both started to run from the store. I left first. As Welby left the store he was limping. When we got in the car he acted like he had been shot and said he had been shot."

RISING PROPERTY VALUES TO EXCEL SUBWAYS' COST

Hewitt Writes "L" Lines Might Pay 40%.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

To obtain a substantial improvement in local transportation, more tracks are necessary through the central business district. More cars will not be much benefit. They now fill all the tracks. There is no more space for tracks on the surface. More in the air are not desired. The only place they can be placed is below the surface. The urgent need is a subway.

That will benefit the districts through which it is constructed. It will boost property values along the routes and it will tend to fix them more permanently than any other improvement. One real estate adviser of THE TRIBUNE predicted that a subway would boost land values in the loop $1,000 a front foot on the route street and in a proportionately smaller extent as the tubes extend outward. A rate of $1,000 a foot is $10,550,000 per mile.

Subway Costs Decrease.

The cost of a subway usually is estimated at $1,000,000 a mile single tracks, $2,000,000 for double track and $4,000,000 for four tracks—such as is contemplated in the downtown district for the first north and south bore. Present caisson methods of building would lessen the cost of protection to foundations of various loop structures.

The subway advisory commission on which were Russell Tyson, Gordon Strong, Barney Balaban, Harry J. Powers, Earl Schultz, Elmer T. Stevens, and Ernest J. Stevens, said in its report, page 62:

"The property owners of the downtown district recognize their dependence on the outside district of Chicago. One form of this recognition is in the payment of taxes to the city far beyond the cost of any service directly received from the city. The 130 office buildings in the Building Managers' association pay annually to the county tax collector about $10,000,000."

The report gives other illustrations, but intimates that property should pay around 35 per cent of the cost of subways suggested, although in one assessment district the average runs as high as 65 per cent. A payment of 50 per cent of the cost of subways by directly benefited property owners does not seem high, on the esimated increase in loop land values of $1,000 a front foot.

Taking the subway program, involving an estimated cost of $30,000,000, 50 per cent or $15,000,000 would fall on directly benefited property owners. As a matter of equity, why shouldn't the other 50 per cent be contributed by the elevated roads, instead of coming from the city's accumulated traction fund?

A subway, with other contemplated rapid transit improvements, would raise the elevated to the point of being a good money maker. On the basis of the earning power of the telephone company, the Commonwealth Edison company or the Chicago Surface Lines, about half of the valuation of Chicago Rapid Transit elevated property is dead. If the elevated is entitled to an earning rate of 8 per cent, as it probably should be, then only half of the $96,000,000 valuation in the elevated can be said to be productive, because it is earning only 4 per cent on that sum. The other half is dead.

Add $12,000,000—the Chicago Rapid Transit's share of the cost of downtown subways—to its valuation, and then $23,000,000 more in "L" improvements as the estimated cost, and the total value would be $131,000,000. Those improvements and a subway would increase the capacity of the rapid transit lines at least 75 per cent. That increase is the estimate of Mr. Samuel Insull and he has a fixed habit of making good on his figures. Engineers have estimated the increase as high as 150 per cent.

Insull Figures as Basis.

Assuming only a 75 per cent increase in traffic, in gross earnings and in probable profits, $12,000,000 for subways and $23,000,000 for "L" improvements does not appear to be reckless business. An increase of 36.3 per cent in investment for an increase of 75 per cent in earning power does not look like an unreasonable request. Of course, an expenditure of only $23,000,000 for "L" extensions and improvements, or 24 per cent boost in investment for a 75 per cent increase in traffic, is much better business on the part of the Rapid Transit company. But the proposed improvements are of limited value without the added tracks through a subway.

If such a program were agreed on the downtown section could have a subway at its own and the elevated's expense and the city still would have $50,000,000 accumulated from its 55 per cent of the surface lines' net earnings in its treasury. That $50,000,000 would be available for extension of the surface lines in the unprofitable, outlying districts.

Engineers who have studied the problem say $50,000,000 is sufficient to build all the needed extensions in the far out territory, then a subway for west side surface cars, with $17,000,000 to $20,000,000 left over.

DELAY DISTRIBUTION OF HICKMAN REWARDS UNTIL AFTER HIS TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The committee in charge of the awards offered for the capture of William E. Hickman today decided to take no action on the distribution of the money until after Hickman has been tried.

A subcommittee was appointed to classify the claims and decide upon the equitable distribution of $32,000 cash awards in hand. This is exclusive of the city, county and state awards, over which the committee has no jurisdiction. The Oregon captors of Hickman, Tom Gurdane and Buck Lleuallen, were present at the committee meeting.

GLENCOE PAIR STILL MISSING; ALL CLEWS FAIL

Private detectives last night were aiding in the search for Alexander Maitland, 25, and his brother-in-law, Robert Case, 14, missing since they went duck hunting early last Monday morning.

The detectives were employed during the day by E. F. Smith of Glencoe, and Alexander F. Maitland. Mr. Maitland is the father of one and Mr. Smith stepfather of the other. After three days' intensive search they were convinced the missing hunters have been kidnaped.

So strong was that belief Mr. Maitland and Mr. Smith made arrangements to send descriptive circulars to all police stations in the middle west today.

An airplane again yesterday swept low over the lake and marshes west of the suburbs with no results.

Dogs Hunt Missing Pair.

Two police dogs obtained from kennels at Northbrook by Police Chief Jacob Rudolph of Glencoe, failed to pick up the three day old trail, trampled and washed by rain for days.

The dogs, trained in following human scent gave up. Their owner, James Sullivan, finally was convinced the trail was too faint.

Following the three days' search along the beaches by the coast guard from Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and Evanston, by Boy Scouts and by several airplanes, Capt. Otto Fricke of the Evanston coast guard yesterday said he was convinced the men had not been drowned in the lake.

"I have had my men make a careful investigation," Capt. Fricke said. "I find there is only one boat missing from any any place and that is a 1,000 pound scow, too heavy for them to launch.

"If they had gone out in another boat, the boat might fill up with water, but we would have found it. It is almost impossible they could have fallen through the ice and been drowned for the water under the shore ice was not deep enough at any place."

Says He Saw Boat.

Henry Hedberg, a real estate dealer, living on Lakeside terrace, Glencoe, recollected yesterday morning that he had seen two persons in a boat off his home last Monday morning. He could not remember, however, whether one was a man and the other a boy nor whether one wore a raccoon coat—Maitland wore one of the latter when the two left on the hunting expedition from which they did not come back.

PLANES RAIN FOOD ON SNOWBOUND BRITISH TOWNS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 29.—England still is isolated from the continent, except for wireless, and about one boat which manages to struggle across the channel daily. The Southern Railway, which runs cross-channel services, today refused to guarantee passages or book accomodations before Jan. 1. Thousands are waiting at ports for a chance to cross and these must be cleared before later comers can be handled.

Airplanes and armored tanks today were brought into use to replenish the food supplies of snowbound towns and villages in Surrey. The planes were unable to land and dropped the food in bags with parachutes.

Storm Hits Italy.

ROME, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Storms, with cyclonic winds and a battering sea, swept over Italy today.

Venice's famous St. Marks square was under water for the second time this year and boats were unable to pass under the academy bridge.

Great waves swept in from the seas and flooded the streets of Naples. Street car traffic was suspended.

Five Cent Fare Subway Opens to Tokio Crowds

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Dec. 29.—In time to handle the holiday crowds the first link of the Tokio subway opened today. The first passengers included a number of imperial princes and members of the cabinet. The link, which is a mile long, connects Asakusa park and Uyeono park, the most congested part of the city. The system has been modeled after that of New York, and the fare is ten sen (5 cents).

GOVERNOR WINS OKLAHOMA WAR OF POLITICIANS

Impeachment Illegal, Senate Votes, 22-16.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 29.—(AP) Oklahoma's political insurrection, aimed at the removal from office of Gov. Henry S. Johnston and at least six other state officers, reached an unsuccessful end today.

With dramatic suddenness, the state senate brought impeachment activities to a close by the dismissal of charges filed by house members against Gov. Johnston, Chief Justice Fred P. Branson of the Supreme court and Harry S. Cordell, president of the board of agriculture.

Meeting in a downtown hotel, to which they retreated yesterday after they had been dispersed at the doors of the capitol chamber by National Guardsmen under the direction of the governor, the senators decided, by a vote of 22 to 16, that the house of representatives had no authority to convene itself and vote the impeachment charges.

Unpaid for Efforts.

Members of both house, who had persisted in meeting despite a series of unfavorable decisions by state courts and the military resistance, abandoned their activities abruptly after the senate decision and began to depart for their homes, unpaid for their efforts.

Shortly after the session had adjourned, Gov. Johnston ordered demobilization of the units of the Oklahoma National Guard, which were called out Dec. 12 to prevent the house of representatives from meeting in its chambers and voting impeachment charges.

Several senators who spoke and voted for dismissal of the impeachment charges made it clear they did so, not because of friendship of the accused officials, but because they had become convinced of the illegality of the attempted actions.

Senator Tom Anglin of Holdenville, one of the strongest bulwarks of defense against the assault on the office of the governor, said that "Johnston is governor at all," but argued against the pursuance of a course of action which he felt would result in dual government and chaotic conditions in the state.

Senator W. J. Otjen of Enid, a Republican leader, and Senator Guy L. Johnson of McAlester, both of whom insisted on the senate's power to convene itself as a court of impeachment adhered to the view that the house possessed no self-convening power.

Gov. Johnston characterized the senate's action as a further vindication of the "orderly processes of government."

"Their vote sustained the position that I have steadfastly held since the beginning of the agitation, which is that the house members had no right to convene themselves and they were not a lawful assembly."

Hold Session Illegal.

Chief Justice Branson has held throughout that the special session of the legislature was illegal, and his opinion on the subject was followed by inferior state courts.

Mr. Cordell had accepted the jurisdiction of the senate to try him, and had asked that the charges be heard.

Six specific counts were voted against the governor by house members who met before dawn Dec. 13 in a hotel after troops had prevented their attempt to convene at the capitol.

The first count charged unwarranted use of military authority in calling out troops to prevent the house session; the second was a general charge of incompetency; the third that he employed José Alvarado, under conviction of robbery, as a state officer; the fourth that he illegally employed Kirby Fitzpatrick of Ardmore as attorney for the state banking department; the fifth that he had issued an illegal deficiency warrant for $7,900 to create positions in the state banking department unauthorized by law, and the sixth that he conspired with his confidential secretary, Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, and another woman, to obtain payment of a claim held by a contractor.

A charge of moral turpitude was drawn up by a house investigating committee but was never adopted by the house as a whole. The investigating committee acted after hearing testimony concerning the personal conduct of Gov. Johnston and Mrs. Hammonds.

Chief Justice Branson was impeached by the house members as the result of an opinion he rendered relative to the legality of the legislative session.

"FILM BABY" TO BE BRIDE

Blanche Mehaffey, movie actress, who attracted much attention as a wampas baby in pictures, yesterday obtained a license in Los Angeles to become the wife of George J. Hausen, oil operator and big game hunter. The application for the license gave her age as 22, his as 46.

U. S. INDICTS 2 EX-DRY AGENTS, CHARGING $300 BOOZE GRAFTING

Feodor Kuhn and Eugene F. Blackburn, suspended prohibition agents, were named in an indictment returned yesterday before Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe, alleging extortion from Charles A. Landerer, owner of a roadhouse in Niles Center.

The indictment charges Kuhn and Blackburn visited the Landerer roadhouse last February and purchased several drinks of whisky. They then are charged with revealing their government employment and threatening to arrest Landerer if $300 was not paid to them.

Patrick J. Collins, justice of the peace of Niles Center, according to the indictment, turned the money over to the two dry agents later at Lincoln and Touhy avenues. No official report of the reputed purchases of liquor were made by the agents to prohibition headquarters.

Bonds of $2,500 were set for each defendant under the bench warrants issued by Judge Cliffe.

Day Passes with No Auto Fatalities in County

No auto deaths were recorded yesterday in Cook county and no serious accidents were reported.

DR. S. H. CLARK, U. OF C., KILLED BY STREET CAR

Professor Emeritus, 65, Run Down in Loop.

Dr. Solomon H. Clark, 65 years old, professor emeritus of public speaking at the University of Chicago, was struck and fatally injured yesterday afternoon by a southbound State street trolley car at Washington street.

Dr. Clark had gone downtown on a shopping trip. According to witnesses, he stepped squarely in front of the street car, apparently unaware of his danger.

Harry Anderson, 7014 South Marshfield avenue, who was passing in an automobile, lifted Dr. Clark into his car and took him to Iroquois hospital. There Dr. Clark died without regaining consciousness.

Deny Car Fails to Stop.

Officials of the Chicago surface lines last night denied a report that the street car did not halt after striking Dr. Clark. They declared the car's crew aided Anderson in taking the victim to the hospital. James Morris, motorman, said he applied his brakes, but could not avoid striking the professor.

Since his retirement in 1921, Dr. Clark had lived at 547 South St. John avenue, Highland Park. For many years he was well known as a public speaker, author, and lecturer. He came to the University of Chicago in 1892 from Trinity college.

Former Dean of Speech.

Dr. Clark received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago in 1897. He was dean of the department of speech at the time of his retirement.

Several years ago Dr. Clark came to public attention through declaring that the late E. H. Sothern, noted actor, was fitted only for the vaudeville stage.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, at Chautauqua, N. Y. Dr. Clark is survived by four sons, Harold, Coleman, Robert and Barrett Clark.

15 ABOVE ZERO WAVE FORECAST FOR CITY TODAY

A cold wave from the northwest was pushing rapidly eastward and southward last night and the weather bureau predicted that it would be much colder in and near Chicago today, with 15 above zero as a possible minimum. The cold is expected to continue through tomorrow.

Yesterday the mercury stood at 45 degrees above zero, said to be a high record for Dec. 29 for the last nineteen years.

Intense cold has been prevalent in Canada during the last few days, some temperatures as low as 20 below zero having been recorded. The line of zero temperatures at 7 p. m. had reached eastern Minnesota and northwest Nebraska. In northern Michigan, eastern and southern Iowa and Wisconsin, and northern Kansas, the fall will have the aspect of a cold wave, but it is not believed the full force of the chill blasts will reach Chicago. Skies are expected to be mostly fair.

Lieut. Louis Klatzko Wins Two Promotions in a Week

From the ranks to lieutenant of police in less than a week is the record announced for Lieut. Louis Klatzko last night by Chief Michael Hughes. Klatzko, with a number of others, was promoted to the rank of sergeant on Christmas eve. Yesterday the chief appointed him lieutenant.

TRIBUNE HELPS VETERANS DURING RUSH FOR BONUS

Midnight of Dec. 31, 1927, is the last date on which applications may be filed for the federal adjusted compensation [insurance bonus] which the government gives to all men and women who served honorably in the world war. As the deadline approaches, ex-service men and their dependents have rushed to the various veterans' welfare organizations to file claims for this free insurance policy before the time expires. They have been coming in by the thousands within the last few days at THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service office, where extra help was needed to take care of these last minute applicants.

Settling previous conflicting reports on the deadline date, Brig. Gen. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans' bureau, announced in Washington yesterday that no applications would be honored unless mailed before midnight of Dec. 31.

THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service Office, No. 1 South Dearborn street, is equipped to furnish blanks and instructions to all who have delayed filing claims for their bonus.

ASKS OBLIGATORY VACCINATION.

CALL LEADERS OF TRADE, LABOR TO RACKET WAR

Strawn, Others Ask 500 to Meet Jan. 18.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Rigmond Nagy, murder, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Business and labor leaders will meet Jan. 18 to plan a war on racketeers and gangsters. The call for the meeting was issued yesterday and between 400 and 500 invited to the Hotel La Salle on that date.

Silas H. Strawn, president of the American Bar association, is credited with the idea of such a meeting for effective steps against racketeers and gangsters operating in this county.

"The purpose of the meeting is to apprise the responsible citizens of this community of existing conditions and to plan effective remedy," Mr. Strawn said.

Says Chicago's Name Suffers.

"Chicago has been given an evil name in other cities, because of the crime of organized gangs here. Our crimes have been exaggerated, of course, but the best way to clear the city's name and to make conditions better for ourselves is to reduce crime as much as possible.

"Two things must be done. First, we must arouse the citizens and second we must win the fullest coöperation of public officials by showing them that the people will back their efforts to clean up the city."

Edwin W. Sims, former United States district attorney; T. E. Donnelley, chairman of the Citizens' committee; Joseph R. Noel, James A. Patten, Edward F. Gore, chairman of the Chicago crime commission; Chief Michael Hughes, Chief Justice William V. Brothers of the Criminal court and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, are to speak.

Those Calling Meeting.

The invitations for the dinner are to be signed by William R. Abbott, Charles V. Barrett, George W. Dixon, Edward N. Hurley, Marshall E. Keig, E. F. Mansure, Alexander H. Revell, E. M. Skinner, Elmer T. Stevens, Melvin A. Traylor, Lawrence Whiting, William Wrigley Jr., and other business leaders.

Streeter Heirs to Press Property Fight on Tuesday

Heirs of Capt. George W. Streeter will air their claims to the property in Streeterville valued into the hundreds of millions of dollars when the January term of the United States Court of Appeals opens on Tuesday. The Chicago Title and Trust company is among the defendants. The heirs are seeking an appeal from a decision denying them the right to continue a suit filed by Streeter before his death.

AFTER 3 DAYS ONE JUROR IS SELECTED FOR HILL'S TRIAL

State Will Summon 100 Witnesses.

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—One juror had been tentatively accepted by both the state and the defense when court adjourned today in the trial of Harry Hill, accused of shooting his mother, Mrs. Elisa A. Hill, and burying her body in the basement of her Streator home. The juror was James Riordan, 75, a farmer and the father of five children.

The selection of the jury was started this afternoon after three days of preliminary skirmishing, motions and arguments. A series of motions by Lee O'Neil Browne, chief defense counsel, met defeat before Judge Joseph A. Davis. Browne first sought to withdraw Hill's plea of not guilty, then to quash the indictments. He next asked that the state be forced to name which of the counts Hill was being tried on and when overruled objected to a special prosecutor employed by the state.

His last stand was on the list of veniremen, his objection being that the panel should have contained only twenty-four instead of sixty-four names. In this he also lost.

Earlier in the day the defense had won a victory by compelling the state to file their additional list of witnesses. This showed that more than 100 witnesses will be called.

Hill today appeared to be more nervous than he had at any time since the trial opened. Last night his fiancee, Miss Alice Sawyer, attended a dancing party in company with another youth.

WOMAN MISSING; SENDS SUICIDE NOTE TO COURT

When three men claiming to be the husbands of Mrs. Dorothy Mandell Massoth Graff appeared in the Des Plaines street court yesterday morning to testify against her on a charge of bigamy, they found a suicide note from her waiting for them. Mrs. Graff's sister, Billie Howard, with whom she had been living at 213 South Western avenue, brought the note to Judge Max Luster. The judge expressed belief that Mrs. Graff had left the city rather than take her life and continued the case to Jan. 5.

Last night, after a vain search in the morgue and several hospitals, Mrs. Graff was still missing. "Dorothy has tried to commit suicide twice before," said her sister.

In her suicide note, Mrs. Graff wrote: "I am sorry to have to write to you in this vein. I tried all day to raise funds to defend myself against that which I am not guilty of, but have failed miserably."

The complaining witnesses are Robert Mandell, 1214 North Hoyne avenue, to whom Dorothy was married in 1925 and never divorced according to Mandell; John B. Massoth, 1932 Warren avenue, to whom she was married in 1926 and divorced a few months later, and Graff, whom she married in 1927.

U. S. HISTORIANS DENOUNCE TEXT BOOK CENSORSHIP

Faithfulness to Fact Is Only Test.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—The American Historical association, comprising a membership of most of the leading college and professional historians in the United States, today unanimously and amidst great applause adopted resolutions denouncing current attacks on history text books as inimical to the best interests of the nation.

While Mayor Thompson's name was not mentioned either during the passage of the resolutions or at the night session of the association when Gov. Ritchie of Maryland was the principal speaker, leading delegates said they were aimed at the Chicago mayor and all others who attempt to censor history text books on any other ground than that of faithfulness to fact.

Charges Labeled Absurd.

The development of genuine, intelligent patriotism, the association stated, demanded that the truth of history shall be taught even though it may include unpleasant facts. Attempt to foster national boastfulness, arrogance and indiscriminate worship of national heroes, the resolutions stated, only serve to promote false patriotism.

Charges emanating from Mayor Thompson's anti-British propaganda campaign to the effect that attempts are being made to insert treasonable propaganda in American history text books were described as absurd.

Gov. Ritchie pleaded for tolerance in America's immigration policy and openly questioned the advisability of stringent restriction laws.

"For two centuries," he said, "we have been receiving from Europe the best form of capital—human capital. This country could not have grown as it has had not the adult man power of Europe crossed the Atlantic and helped develop it.

Questions Alien Restriction.

"Of course, there is friction between the older and the newer waves of immigration. No one would want to see a degree of immigration which we could not assimilate, but if we are confronted by a demand to restrict immigration or to discriminate between different national sources of immigration, the only way to meet it is in the light of history and by the consideration of questions such as these:

"Is there basis for the allegation that our institutions will be menaced by the newcomers? Do American workmen need a restricted labor market in this country, or will high wage levels and high standards of living be more surely procured and maintained by expanding the domestic market? Is it wise to raise the barriers against human capital just in these years when we have begun to export material and monetary capital on a colossal scale?"

MEXICO TO MAKE OIL LAND OWNERS PAY FOREIGN DEBT

Expect $15,000,000 from 10% Levy.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—Mexico proposes to raise 30,000,000 pesos ($15,000,000) or more over and above the present income from Petroleum, which will be sufficient to meet the payments on the foreign debt. This would be added to $10,000,000 from oil and $6,000,000 from ordinary government income. A member of the government today said the plan in no way would affect the petroleum industry.

Tax Owners 10 Per Cent.

The government proposes to tax the owners of lands or those holding leases on oil lands which were passed on to exploiting companies. Ninety per cent of such owners live abroad, either in the United States or Europe, where they spend the royal incomes received from the oil companies. It is said by the government that these original owners of oil concessions spend all their income abroad.

A bill has just been drafted to tax these original owners or concession holders ten per cent of the income received from the land. The tax will be collected from the exploiting companies, which will be authorized to deduct it from the money paid to the original concession holders.

Another Tax on Crude Oil.

A second tax of ten per cent will be placed on crude oil produced in Mexico with the object of forcing the companies to refine the oil here and thus save the waste on crude oil. This latter move affects the oil companies, but it is said by the government that it eventually will work out to the benefit of the companies, as it will force them to save all the petroleum by-products, as is done in other countries.

COURT ENJOINS EXHUMATION OF WOMAN'S BODY

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher issued an injunction yesterday which halted the plan of Coroner Oscar Wolff to exhume the body of Mrs. Angelina Bunofigilio, who died on Nov. 11 and was buried in Mount Carmel cemetery. Exhumation had been requested by Attorney E. D. D'Crucy of the Chicago National Insurance company, 202 South State street.

Nicholas Fiorenzo, 926 South Marshfield avenue, and his sister, Mrs. Catrina Totti, nephew and niece of Mrs. Bunofigilio and beneficiaries of insurance policies totaling $5,000, obtained the injunction through Attorney J. A. Farrell.

Attorney D'Crucy had represented to Coroner Wolff that his company desired an investigation because the insurance application stated Mrs. Bunofigilio was in perfect health, though the death certificate indicated she died of heart trouble of long standing. There were also discrepancies in the description of the insured, it was said. Mr. Farrell contended Mrs. Bunofigilio had died a natural death and charged insurance officials with intent to evade payment.

KIP'S WIFE FILES SEPARATION SUIT CRUELTY IS BASIS

Infidelity Is Alleged in Complaint.

New York, Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Heartbroken and made ill, she insists, by the knowledge that Leonard (Kip) Rhinelander's love was but the flame of a passing fancy, his quadroon bride, the former Alice Jones of New Rochelle, today began suit for a legal separation.

Stating her action on alleged cruelty, inhuman treatment, and abandonment, it was disclosed that her decision to cast off her husband was made only after she had learned that he was unfaithful.

Kip in Louisiana.

Kip, under the tutelage of companions hired by his father, Maj. Philip Rhinelander, has acquired a liking for country life, it is charged. Since the legal representatives of his father took him from the arms of his bride two years ago he has carried on with women in a half dozen states, it is set forth.

Kip is reported to be in Louisiana, where he went several weeks ago to establish residence as a preliminary to filing suit for divorce from Alice.

In view of Alice Jones Rhinelander's protestations of abiding love for her husband, even after he tried, in a sensational lawsuit, to be rid of her, the fact that she had begun suit against Kip came as a surprise to some of her closest friends. Why she merely sought suit for a separation when the charges, if proved, would merit a divorce here, is not explained.

Refuses Service of Summons.

It was learned tonight that a recent attempt by former Judge Samuel F. Hilburn of New Rochelle, Alice's attorney, to effect service of the summons in the separation action by delivering the papers to Kip's attorney, Nathan R. Jacobs, had met with refusal of acceptance.

There appeared tonight to be little likelihood that Kip or his family would contest his wife's action. Jacobs and Kip are interested in the Rhinelander family's fight to be rid of Kip's New Rochelle bride have admitted they long have sought means of procuring a divorce or annulment.

No specific sum is mentioned in Alice's demand for alimony, leaving the matter open for the court to fix the amount.

ADVERTISING MAN WRITES NOTES, KILLS HIMSELF

After writing notes to a relative and to the police, in which he stated his intention to commit suicide because of financial reverses, James N. Nelson, 37, shot and fatally wounded himself yesterday morning in his office at 309 South La Salle street. He died early last evening in St. Luke's hospital.

Nelson operated an advertising agency under his own name and was also interested in a publishing venture that had not been successful. Before shooting himself he placed three cigars on a desk and with them a note informing the police they were for them "with my compliments."

The letter to his brother-in-law, Albert Sebaugh, 808 West 76th street, contained instructions for the funeral. To his wife and 3 year old daughter, who were in Denver, he wrote a special delivery letter, informing them that he was going to kill himself.

County Welfare Official to Wed Rich Mine Operator

Miss Virginia M. Sanforth, who as assistant director of the Cook county public welfare bureau for the last few years is familiar with tragedies of matrimony, Monday will become the bride of Lawrence Robbins, wealthy mine operator of Cleveland, O., it was learned yesterday. Mrs. Margaret Donar has been appointed to take Miss Sanforth's position with the county, investigating nonsupport cases against men failing to care for their families.

PIKE, ABSENT, IS MADE PRESIDENT OF LINCOLN PARK

BY PARKE BROWN.

No blare of trumpets marked the reëntry of Eugene R. Pike into the presidency of the Lincoln park board yesterday.

The opposite was true, for Mr. Pike was not even on hand when he was elected as head of the board. It was announced that illness kept him from the meeting.

Col. Robert H. Morse, slated for the vice presidency, also was prevented from being present. He was laid up at his residence, it was said, with a broken ankle. His also was to have been a reëntry, as he retired from the board two years ago when the Lundinites drove out the Thompson forces.

That left only the two newcomers of the recently appointed Thompson quartet majority, H. Wallace Caldwell and John R. Thompson Jr., said to be two of the youngest men ever awarded commissionerships, as the sole representatives of the new control.

But things couldn't have been smoother if all the quartet had been there. The three holdover commissioners from the Small-Lundin régime, Alexander Fyfe, John A. Torstenson and Albert Z. Halperin, swung into harmony with the governor's plans and carried out the wishes expressed by Mr. Pike when Commissioner Fyfe called on him in the morning.

David H. Jackson, whose retirement as president was forced because of his duties as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, called the meeting of the five to order. Then he proposed that they select a temporary chairman.

Commissioner Fyfe was elected and presided during the election of President Pike and Vice President Morse. The board also reelected Maj. Carlos Ames as secretary and Emil A. W. Johnson as superintendent.

The board adjourned to 3 o'clock next Tuesday when, the politicians say, the first real rumblings of a patronage shakeup will be heard. That this will be extensive is denied by some Small lieutenants who now have shares in the park pay roll.

ROBERT FORSYTH'S ESTATE'S VALUE IS SET AT A MILLION

The estate of Robert Forsyth, most of which was bequeathed to charity, was estimated at $1,000,000 in an inventory filed yesterday before Assistant Probate Judge Leon Edelman. The consulting engineer died Sept. 11 at the age of 75 years, without heirs. The only relative mentioned in his will is a cousin, Frances L. Shields of Keeseville, N. Y., who was left $100,000.

The largest of charity bequests, totaling $620,000, was a gift of $460,000 to the John Crerar library. An invaluable collection of pictures, etchings, and silverware, the inventory discloses, was left to the Art institute in addition to $10,000. Hospitals and schools shared $180,000. The balance of the estate will be shared by friends.

The inventory, filed by Attorney Stuart Templeton, does not include promissory notes not secured by mortgages. These obligations were canceled by Mr. Forsyth's will.

3 BOY BANDITS CAUGHT IN HAIL OF POLICE SHOTS

Three of five boy bandits, speeding away from a holdup in the candy store of Albert Biela, 1521 Augusta street, late last night were captured by Sergt. William Hanrahan and his bureau squad, in a hail of bullets near Chicago and Hoyne avenues.

As the youths in a stolen car sped on the policemen opened fire. The boys then abandoned the automobile and started to run, throwing their pistols away.

The three who were captured were Christ Lindbom, 14, of 649 North Lincoln street; Walter Solan, 13, of 939 North Winchester avenue, and John Racborski, 15, of 1302 Huron street.

MARSHALL FIELD ESTATE'S TAXES REFUND $504,602

Trustees Given Rebate for Overcollections.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Marshall Field III., Chauncey Keep, Arthur B. Jones and the Illinois Merchants Trust company, as trustees for the estate of the late Marshall Field, received a refund of $504,602 in federal taxes "illegally collected" from the estate, according to the report submitted to congress yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The same trustees, acting for the Nancy Perkins Field Tree trust fund, were repaid $141,398 which had been erroneously assessed against the fund, according to the report, which records more than 240,000 refunds, aggregating $103,558,687.

Among the estates of other once prominent Chicagoans which shared in the refunds and the amounts they received were: Edward Tilden, $39,980.17; Victor L. Cunnyngham, $5,813.38; Victor Lawson, $633.85; Rose F. Chatfield-Taylor, $3,102.02; Agnes C. Allerton, $4,913; Simon Straus, $7,470.06; John G. Shedd, $380.40; E. A. Shedd, $1,359.02, and Frederick D. Countiss, $925.62.

Numerous Personal Refunds.

Among the social registerites whose names are listed among the thousands of Chicagoans who received refunds are T. Philip Swift, 220 East Walton place, credited with securing a rebate of 79 cents; Edward Foster Swift, 1550 North State parkway, refunded $13; Watson F. Blair, 720 Rush street, given $10.38; David R. Forgan Jr., 1315 Astor street, given $4.69; Mrs. John B. Drake Jr., 219 Lake Shore drive, who received $2.48; and James MacVeagh, Racquet club, who received $12.72.

Joseph Leiter, son of the pioneer Chicago merchant, the report shows, received a refund of $16,181.67; Ernest J. Stevens, 1314 East 58th street, received $103.33; Charles A. McCulloch, 936 Lake Shore drive, received $8,789.90; L. Montefiore Stein, 215 South La Salle street, received $6,023.59; William E. Coats, 3730 Sheridan road, received $4,881.52; F. O. Butler of the Butler Brothers Paper company, received $10,349.85; Edward Butler received $747.90, and J. F. Butler received $7,362.99.

Amounts Vary Widely.

Mrs. Gladys R. Byfield, according to the report, was given $87.14, and Herman W. Mallen, 346 St. John's court, is listed as having received $21,928.40; Herbert P. Crane of St. Charles, Ill., received $359.22, and Charles H. Morse, 900 South Wabash avenue, was given $1,285.90.

Others well known in Chicago social or political circles listed in the report are: E. J. Lehmann, 3662 Sheridan road, $19.10; Howard Elting, 48 Bellevue place, $6.31; Robert W. Hamill, 216 South Michigan avenue, $2,818.26; Chauncey B. Borland, 105 South La Salle street, $210.52; Bruce Borland, 105 South La Salle street, $277.54; Charles B. Shedd, 137 South La Salle street, $1,378.72, and Scott S. Durand, 317 North Wells street, $6.39.

Augustus S. Peabody, 936 Lake Shore drive, received $1,977.46; Superior Judge Jesse Holdom, 4932 Lake Park avenue, $34.27; Robert H. McCormick, 25 East Erie street, $4,701.69; Joseph M. Cudahy, 111 West Washington street, $1,881.55; Mrs. Frances H. Niblack, 90 East Chestnut street, $138.71; William E. Anderson, 1362 Wilson avenue, $2,491.43; Mrs. Jesse L. Wickwire, 6200 Kenmore avenue, $701.28; Norman Dwight Harris, 115 West Monroe street, $101.95, and Edward I. Cudahy, 1501 North State street, $454.28.

Booze Valued at $50,000 Is Poured Down Sewer

Liquor valued at $50,000 in bootleg prices was poured into the sewer yesterday by Sheriff Charles E. Graydon and Chief James L. Devereux of the county highway police. Approximately 150 slot machines and 25 gambling tables were destroyed at the same time. The contraband was nine months' collection from raids. The officers were clearing out the storage vault on the third floor of the county building, which is being remodeled. Liquor destroyed included 3,000 gallons of alcohol, 1,000 gallons of whisky, 500 gallons of gin, 750 gallons of wine, and 1,000 pint bottles of ale.

G. O. P. TO FLANK DEMOCRATS IN TAX CUT BATTLE

Replies to Smoot's Inquiry.

To Senator Smoot's inquiry whether tax reduction could be postponed until after March 15 without unduly inconveniencing the taxpayer, Secretary Mellon replied in favor of such postponement if congress is disposed to exceed the $225,000,000 limit. Mr. Mellon enumerated the prospective additional expenditures not taken into account when that amount was fixed as a limit of a safe reduction of taxes.

The house, he pointed out, immediately after passing the tax reduction bill, which exceeds the administration limit by $65,000,000, approved additional expenditures totaling $85,000,000. The estimated surplus revenue of the government for the fiscal year 1929 on the basis of present taxes is only $252,540,233.

"It is apparent, therefore," wrote Mr. Mellon, "that unless the senate modifies the tax reduction provided for in the house bill, and unless the two houses ultimately agree to limit tax reduction to the figure recommended by the budget message, estimated receipts will not be adequate to meet estimated expenditures as submitted in the budget.

Current Income Tax Yield.

"In making its estimates for the fiscal year 1929 the treasury department assumed that the current income tax yield would be equal to that of the fiscal year 1927, one-half of which was based on the income of the calendar year 1926. It appears at the moment as if corporate net incomes in the aggregate of the calendar year 1927 will fall below those of the calendar year 1926 by not less than 6 per cent nor more than 10 per cent.

"Income tax returns are directly affected by business conditions, and rise or fall with them. This is well illustrated by the following figures:

"If the gross income of corporations in 1927, as compared with 1926, should fall off 10 per cent, revenue from this source would fall off by approximately $200,000,000, according to the estimate made by Mr. McCoy, the government actuary, and this without taking into consideration the loss in tax on the income of individuals.

"This is on the assumption that the rate is to remain at 13½ per cent. If the rate is reduced to 11½ per cent, and if the other provisions of the house bill relating to corporate taxation becomes law, and if, in addition, there is a falling-off in gross income of corporations of 10 per cent, as compared with the year 1926, the loss in revenue from that source alone will aggregate for the calendar year 1928 approximately $350,000,000.

"It is impossible to secure more accurate information before March 15 next, when the returns for the calendar year 1927 will be filed. Only after that date will we be in a position to know with reasonable definiteness the income for the calendar year 1927 reported for tax purposes on which we may rely for tax receipts during the first half of the fiscal year 1929.

"Also, it will be easier then to determine whether receipts from back taxes are to continue at a high level, or whether the decreased receipts from back taxes, which have been expected for some time, have definitely set in. Present indications are that they have.

$18,000,000 Month Average.

"During the first five months of the present fiscal year, as compared with the same months a year ago, back tax collections aggregated $88,930,000 as compared with $112,683,000. Our estimate of back tax collections for the present fiscal year is $280,000,000. To obtain this amount it will be necessary for us to collect an average of $23,300,000 a month. For the first five months of the present fiscal year the average is a little less than $18,000,000 per month.

"It seems to me both the taxpayers and the government have nothing to lose by postponing the final enactment of the tax reduction bill until after the 15th of March."

Thought his case was hopeless Resinol cleared away pimples in a week

Lexington, Mass., March 3, 1927. "I had been suffering from pimples on my neck for years. I believe, had tried everything under the sun for them without avail. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased some of your Resinol Ointment and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's constant use, the pimples disappeared completely, leaving the skin clear and fresh. I had thought my case was hopeless, so you can readily see why I was overjoyed at this result. You can be sure that hereafter you have one more loyal booster for your product." (Signed) Fred J. Fox, 8 Bloomfield St.

SENATOR FRANK B. WILLIS.

REPUBLICAN NAMED TO FILL NEW MEXICO U. S. SENATE VACANCY

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Bronson Cutting, publisher of this city, today was appointed by Gov. R. D. Dillon as United States senator for New Mexico to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Andrieus A. Jones. Mr. Cutting, an independent Republican, will take the place of a Democrat in the senate. His term will expire in March, 1929.

The new senator was born in Oakdale, Long Island, June 23, 1888, and is a graduate of Harvard university. He has resided in New Mexico since 1910.

Gives G. O. P. Senate Majority.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—(AP)—With the appointment of Bronson Cutting, a Republican, to succeed the late Senator Andrieus A. Jones, a Democrat, the Republicans will have a nominal majority of one in the senate as soon as Mr. Cutting qualifies.

The lineup then will stand 47 Republicans, 46 Democrats, and 1 Farmer-Labor, with two seats temporarily vacant, those claimed by Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William S. Vare of Pennsylvania.

LYNCHINGS DROP FROM 34 IN 1926 TO 21 THIS YEAR

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today made public a survey showing a decrease in the number of lynchings from 34 in 1926 to 21 in 1927. Seven men were lynched in Mississippi this year, the report showed, three in Tennessee and Arkansas, two in Florida, and one each on the Kentucky-Virginia border, Louisiana, Missouri, North Carolina, Texas, and California. All but two of the victims were Negroes.

I'VE GOOD CHANCE AT NOMINATION, WILLIS DECLARES

Columbus, O., Dec. 29.—(AP)—While expecting to be the first choice for President of Ohio's delegation to the Republican national convention, United States Senator Frank B. Willis, after conferences with state party leaders here today, declared that each delegate will be free to select whom he pleases as his second choice.

Notwithstanding rumblings that Senator Willis might have to make a fight for delegates in some of the districts, the senator was emphatic in declaring that the solid delegation will be for him for first choice. "I don't care who the second choice of any delegate is," he declared. "There has been no agreement and there will be none as to the second choice of any candidate."

Senator Willis also took occasion to declare that he is in the presidential race to stay and that his candidacy is genuine.

"Of course I may not be nominated, but I am in the race in earnest and expect to do everything honorable to obtain the nomination," he said. "And to tell you the truth, I think I have a very good chance of being nominated.

"I want it distinctly understood that I am not a stalking horse for any one."

Senator Willis let it be known that he expects his colleague, Senator S. D. Fess, to be one of the state's seven delegates at large, although many of his personal friends have urged him not to accept Senator Fess as a delegate, because of the early attitude assumed by the junior senator toward his candidacy.

"If I were not a candidate for President, I certainly would be a candidate for delegate at large, and I think my colleague feels likewise. I am for Senator Fess for reelection and I know Senator Fess is for me for President," Willis declared.

Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene will be Ohio Democracy's "favorite son" for President next year. The state's delegation will be pledged to him as their first choice, with the understanding that they properly are to present and support the claims of any other Ohio candidate whose name may be presented to the convention.

The understanding reached means that Gov. Donahey will receive the support of the Ohio delegation, providing his name is presented as a candidate for President.

MELLON REITERATES HE IS NOT CANDIDATE, DOESN'T CARE TO BE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon reiterated today that he was not a candidate for the presidency.

When his attention was called to published reports that he was a candidate, the secretary said:

"That is not true. I am not a candidate and I do not care to be."

He said he had called W. L. Mellon, chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican state central committee on the telephone and had been informed that the report emanated from Washington, but the secretary said he did not know from what source.

PLAN NEW YEAR FEAST FOR ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED

A New Year's dinner for the army of unemployed, transient and hungry men will be provided by the All Chicago Christmas Fund committee at 23 North Franklin street. "There will be no turkey or fancy food, but there will be enough to appease hunger," said Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, following a visit to the Holy Cross mission and the Cathedral Shelter.

"I was particularly impressed by the scenes at the Holy Cross mission and the Cathedral Shelter on Christmas day, where thousands of men stood in line, some for two or three hours, to get food and coffee," said President Cermak. "We plan to see that any man who will walk downtown and wait in line for food, will be served dinner on New Year's day."

M. S. Symosak has been placed in charge of the arrangements.

Officials of Ad Company Charged with Con Game

J. D. Henderson, president, and Charles M. Stucker, vice president of the Ideal Advertising corporation, 431 Burnham building, were ordered locked up last night by Assistant State's Attorney Joseph H. Nicolai on charges of operating a confidence game. Five salesmen for the organization complained to the prosecutor that they had invested approximately $5,000 in the corporation on the promise of positions at $50 a week and the refund of their money by Jan. 1. The salary payments were not forthcoming, they charged. The officials admitted that they had about $100 in the bank to finance their business of selling a sanitary toothpick machine.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Dec. 29.—Aerial postal torpedoes, carrying mail at a speed of 250 miles an hour, is the scheme proposed by Louis Hirchauer, chief engineer of aeronautics; Augustin Talon, chief engineer of the Midi railway, and Prof. Leon Lecornu of the Polytechnic institute.

The plans provide for construction of suspended railways, like high tension power lines, with projectiles to carry letters, newspapers, and other mail, traveling on wheels along four wires and motivated by electricity.

It is estimated the line would cost 250,000 francs (about $4,000) a kilometer, and the receptacles would carry fifty pounds of mail each, making the trip from Paris to Marseilles in two hours and a half.

SEIZE TWO AS FAKE OPTICIANS; MANY VICTIMS

Two men who are accused of victimizing hundreds of rural residents in Illinois and Michigan by representing themselves to be opticians were under arrest yesterday in Wheaton, it was announced last night by John Follmer, chief investigator for the state department of registration and education.

The men are Otto Swartz, 1591 Richmond avenue, Berwyn, who is said to have represented himself as a graduate of Southwest Optical college, Kansas City, Mo., and Harry Klein of the Paradise Arms hotel, 1441 Washington boulevard.

P. J. McDonnell, chief criminologist for the state's attorney's office in Wheaton, notified Mr. Follmer, whose men had been seeking Swartz and Klein, of their arrest. It is charged that the men alarmed elderly people by telling them they had ailments which would soon result in blindness.

LINDBERGH TO MORROW TO KELLOGG.

Today Mexican-American relations are more cordial than they have been at any time since the Madero revolution of 1910. It is even doubtful if at any time, within living memory, the relations between the two countries have been more friendly than they now are. The result is a credit to the Coolidge-Kellogg diplomacy.

The first fruits of the new spirit in Mexican-American affairs have already been gathered. The Mexican congress has enacted a new law, supplanting the old confiscatory statutes, which recognizes the rights of foreign owners of Mexican lands and mineral rights. The charge has not been made nor can it be made that foreign pressure forced the Mexican congress to do reluctantly what it otherwise would have refused to do.

Now that the thing has happened the opponents of the present administration in Mexico City and the United States will say there is nothing remarkable in all this: it might have happened at any time within the last fifteen years. That is true. The basis for good relations between the United States and Mexico has always been present. We have the capital and the technical skill without which Mexico cannot obtain the riches which it possesses. Mexico has raw materials which we need and can pay for. That was as true ten years ago as it is today. The special achievement of Coolidge, Kellogg and Calles was the practical recognition of the underlying economic facts in the situation.

The immediate circumstances which have led to the present satisfactory situation were unquestionably favorable. Mexican credit abroad was nearly exhausted and heavy obligations were falling due to foreign bondholders. The Mexican treasury is in a bad way, and inactivity in the oil fields, the royalties from which are a principal source of revenue to the Mexican government, has made matters worse. Clearly the financial stringency would go from bad to worse if foreign rights were not given adequate recognition. If recent history had been repeated the situation would have drifted to worse on a sea of diplomatic notes. When Dwight Morrow went to Mexico City as ambassador for the United States, the outlook was somewhat more favorable than it had been for a number of years only because forces which all the time had been apparent to any one who cared to look for them were now apparent even to those who did not trouble to look.

The decision to send Mr. Morrow was a bold one. He was intimately acquainted with the Mexican situation through his experience as a Morgan banker but just because of that connection there was reason to fear that his influence in Mexico and the United States as well might be weakened. On the other hand, Mr. Morrow's high character and skill in negotiation were strongly in his favor. It was certain that the Mexican government would have confidence in his integrity, his knowledge and his sense of fair play.

Mr. Morrow did all that was expected of him, but doubt remained regarding the popular acceptance in Mexico of the settlement which he worked out with Calles. It was then that Lindbergh's flight to Mexico City became a matter of international importance. His success completed the job. He made it easy for the Mexican congress to endorse the Morrow-Calles negotiations. With all of Mexico acclaiming the American hero, no member of the Mexican congress could raise his voice effectively in the old anti-American harangue. Lindbergh clinched the good will of the Mexican people by his perfect behavior. He took the high officials of the Mexican government for a jaunt in his plane. He attended the bull fight despite any instinctive dislike of the sport which he may have felt. He was unfailingly modest and urbane.

Hindsight is easy. Any one may safely say now that an improvement in Mexican-American relations in the closing months of 1927 was inevitable, but that is far from the truth. A less able diplomat than Morrow might have been sent to Mexico and Lindbergh might have remained at home. A less able man than Kellogg might have been secretary of state. A timid administration in Washington would have hesitated to push peaceful negotiations to a conclusion in the face of the publication of documents alleging subversive activities by the Mexican government against the United States. The Calles government might reasonably have sought to postpone action until after the presidential election. The significant fact is that the favorable circumstances were not allowed to die on the vine. The United States and Mexico have shared in the harvest.

WHEN HABEAS CORPUS IS NOT ABUSED.

The State's Attorneys' Association of Illinois, meeting in Chicago, heard a number of sharp criticisms of the current abuse of the writ of habeas corpus. State Senator Barbour said the recent release of a murderer from the penitentiary to which he had been sentenced for life was "outrageous."

There has been an outcry against the abuse of habeas corpus. It should be kept in mind by the people, however, that it remains their protection against arbitrary police action. Not infrequently the police hold men several days for little or no reason. Generally the motive of the police is evident enough. They pick up men known to be of bad character and hold them in the hope of obtaining evidence linking the prisoners with some crime. If the hope is not realized the prisoners are freed after three or four days.

This police method, though strictly illegal, has been given a sort of recognition by the judges. When men so arrested sue for a writ of habeas corpus the judges frequently grant the police 24 or 48 hours in which to make a case against the prisoner, with the condition that at the end of that time the man either be released or charged with some specific offense which carries with it, unless the charge is murder, the right to freedom on bail. That use of the judge's discretion is fair enough to prisoners and the community, but society cannot afford to allow the issuance of the writ in such cases to become a dead letter. The police make frequent mistakes. With the best intentions in the world, except for the writ of habeas corpus they might deprive innocent men of their liberty for days or even weeks.

A distinction must be drawn between the use of the writ of habeas corpus to free men convicted of crime and the use of the same writ to free men who have not been charged with crime.

OUR SHARE IN USELESS NAVY YARDS.

When Rear Admiral Magruder talks of navy department money futilely spent on needless navy yards he is discussing a subject in which the middle west is very much interested.

The admiral recommends that only three Atlantic coast yards, those at Boston, Norfolk, and Philadelphia, be maintained. The remaining yards he would abolish. He also urges closing the naval training stations at Great Lakes, Ill., and Newport, R. I., and says four hospitals should be leased to the veterans' bureau. The closing down of the Portsmouth, New York, and Charleston navy yards and of the Great Lakes and Newport stations, the abolishment of unneeded hospitals, the elimination of a number of high ranking officers, and, in general, the reduction of the organization to its simplest terms, he declares, would save many millions.

In the matter of navy yards, the middle west is ready to understand him very sympathetically. We pay our share of the taxes and we are interested in our money's destination. If it goes into the things that serve us all we are very well satisfied and ready to give more. A majority of us in the middle west believe in a sizable navy, adequately manned and efficiently managed. Though we never see the navy, it is as much to our interest to maintain a naval defense as it is to the interest of the seaboards. But we do not care to have our money go to pay for political perquisites, and the admiral's testimony—though he refrains even from hinting as much—indicates that useless navy yards are nothing else. If a navy yard is not helping the navy, then it is not helping the middle west, and we do not want it, and we ought not to be asked to pay for it. If any one pays for it—and somebody must—it should be the taxpayers of the little territory it serves, though we can imagine no more useless plum to bring home in the political basket than a navy yard for which there isn't any work.

To this statement, of course, will come the answering query, "What about the Great Lakes station?" Admiral Magruder recommends that it also be abandoned. If proved useless it should be abandoned and we would second his recommendation. It served its main purpose during the war. Its presence here in the west may attract a few western boys to the navy, but we doubt whether any considerable number are greatly influenced by the station. Most of them probably would have enlisted anyway. Moreover, from what has been said by army chiefs—and we presume the navy concurs—the lesson of cantonments was learned during the last war. In case of another war our recruits should not be thrown into jerry-built wooden shacks and subjected to dangerous sanitary conditions, but should be housed and trained by using existing structures and equipment.

We do not care about contributing to any navy yards that are not needed, and, in return, if the Great Lakes station is better abolished, it can go and with it any advantage we gain by having it in the vicinity.

Editorial of the Day

[Milwaukee Journal.]

Nearly a century and a half ago certain amendments which make what we call our bill of rights were added to the document which constitutes our basic law. One of these amendments, the fourth, concerns unreasonable searches and seizures and provides for issuing warrants on probable cause.

A few years ago another amendment was made to the constitution—the eighteenth. This later amendment forbids traffic in intoxicating liquors. Congress has provided machinery for its enforcement. The resulting staff of agents has at times ridden roughshod over the provision guaranteeing immunity from search without warrants. Of late these agents have even solicited espionage aid from meter readers and public carriers, hoping thereby to entrap the more wary violators through unofficial and unsuspected helpers.

Now comes Representative Cochran of Missouri, presumably the first of many, with a bill in congress providing punishment for persons violating or aiding in violations of the fourth amendment. After a hundred and fifty years an effort has become necessary to enforce the bill of rights by legislation! Government agents, enforcing one clause of the constitution, have so flagrantly violated another that relief must be provided.

It is a real indictment of the prohibition department that, because of its activities, concern is and must be felt lest the very fundamentals of our constitution be overthrown. And it does the cause of prohibition no good that this is so. Friends of this experiment in social legislation should be the first to demand that the right of a man to be protected against unwarranted intrusion be ruthlessly observed by enforcement agencies.

WHAT TO DO TO PREVENT CROSS-EYES IN BABY.

It does not mean anything that a baby's eyes cross momentarily from time to time. It is another matter when the crossing takes place in a baby one year old or thereabouts. Particularly is this true if the crossing becomes a fixture. To begin with, it means that the muscles which point the sight first one way and then another are not in proper balance. The pull of some one set is stronger than that of the opposing sets. If this is permitted to continue indefinitely, the two eyes lose their power to fuse their pictures and, later on, one or the other eye—usually the crossed one—becomes blind, or practically so.

Under normal conditions a picture of what is in sight is thrown on each retina. Since the eyes are a little distance apart the two pictures differ slightly. That which the right eye sees is not exactly the same as that seen by the left eye. Under normal conditions these two pictures are so fused that when the record is made in the sight center of the brain it shows but one picture and that, a combination of the two eye-pictures. But when the eyes are crossed these two pictures are too radically different for any fusing. Therefore, after crossing develops, the vision passes through three stages: double vision, then loss of power of fusion, and, finally, practical blindness in one eye.

Dr. A. L. Brown warns us against allowing the eyes of children to remain crossed. With young babies some training is possible. Part of this training is negative and part positive. Bright lights, bright objects, and small objects on which the vision is concentrated should not be held close to the eyes of a baby. Any act which causes the baby's eyes to cross should be avoided.

At about sixteen months of age cross-eyed babies should have the vision tested. As a rule, it is advisable to put glasses on a cross-eyed baby at about that age. Dr. Brown says they can be kept on a baby one and a half years old, and breakage is not frequent nor hazardous.

In some cases, putting glasses on a cross-eyed baby does not help. In those cases the eyes should be straightened by operation done at about three years of age.

EAT LESS; WORK HARDER.

Anxious writes: 1. Is there any formula with which a person can massage their fat parts and reduce them?

2. I am 19 years old, am 5 feet tall, and weigh 127 pounds.

3. What is the standard weight for my age and height?

4. What can you give me to reduce?

REPLY.

1. No vigorous, prolonged massage of any fat area will cause the fat to pick up and move to another part. Fat, like some folks, prefers to live in a quiet neighborhood.

But no medicine of any sort has any such effect. In the first place, the chemicals used as rubs will not be absorbed. In the second, they would not have any effect if they were. There are 57 reasons, but why give more?

2. Why did you omit Hamlet from the play with that name?

3. Women 19 years old and 5 feet tall average about 114 pounds. However, much depends upon the general build of the woman and the size of her bones, to say nothing of the camel-like hunks of fat at which you hint without supplying details.

4. Advice: Eat less and work harder.

BALANCED BREAKFAST.

H. P. D. writes: For a good while I have been taking orange juice and raw egg yolk for my breakfast. Would it be all right to add cereal and cream without sugar and, in case the combination is not good, could I take the orange juice and egg upon arising and take the breakfast food later?

The usual bacon, toast and coffee breakfast does not agree with me, but orange juice and egg alone does not seem to be enough.

REPLY.

Of course it is all right to add cereal. Your breakfast needs the carbohydrate cereal to more nearly balance it.

DEBTS AFTER SALE.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If a piece of business is sold what action is necessary for one to take so as not to be responsible for any debts contracted after the sale?

2. Will a chattel mortgage on stock and fixtures come first over any indebtedness incurred after that date? R. O. A.

1. Of course, the bulk sales law should be complied with as to debts incurred before the date of sale. A purchaser of the business would be the only person liable for subsequent debts as far as the facts stated are concerned. If there are facts expressly or impliedly authorizing the purchaser to bind the seller we should have those facts before us.

HAVE YOU TRIED AN AD?

Chicago, Dec. 25. — [To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a fall lease on my apartment expiring next November. Rental is $55 per month, due to sickness I am unable to stay in Chicago to recuperate and need a change of climate for four or five months. I am receiving a sick benefit of full time pay. Have been unsuccessful in trying to sublease and no other recourse seems open to me except to break the lease and move. Could the owner in any way garnishee or stop my sick pay in an effort to collect his rent on my lease?

Mrs. O.

If the money that you have been receiving is a voluntary payment it would not be subject to garnishment. If you are legally entitled to the money then presumably it would be subject to garnishment.

And there we will stand smiling and serene amidst "the crash of matter and the wreck of worlds."

THA B. AN' C. SPRINGS A CROOL TRICK ON THA DUKE

Dick: Here's a new sketch wich I dont know if it's been worked before. Tha B. and C. has got for me, under tha Xmas tree, a merchandice stiff-ticket for ten bucks. Tha document is drawn on a State street store where we trade and incidentally have a charge account. Well, not being in tha market for any dry goods, I goes over to tha store and gives 'em a song and dance about gettin-tha cash instead. I had in mind gettin some wet goods instead, Ennyway tha store tells me that inasmuch as tha stiffticket wasnt paid for in cash, that it was charged, they coodn give me tha bucks. Can you imagine tha nerve of tha Mama? She's buying tha thing an chargin' it and when tha end of tha month comes round I gotta pay for it.

DUKE BAKRAK.

P. S. She's gonna get sore as a owl when she tries to cash tha one I gave her. D. B.

SWANEE THE HICK.

DICK (not us, another Dick) and Louise simply love dogs and they always have three or four around their lovely country place. And what a good time those dogs do have!—sometimes they must think they've died and gone to heaven. The big, handsome collie had to go to the doctor the other day and when he was well again the doctor gave him a poem all about himself to read on his way home. But, being a careless dog and not liking poetry very much anyhow, the collie just put the poem in his pants and forgot all about it. But finally Dick and Louise found it buried with some bones out on the lawn, and the collie said he would be very pleased if it was printed in the Line. So here it is:

Lucky dog!—to run where you please
In a yard of your own, full of flowers and trees,
Where you scamper at will after butterflies and bees,
Or dream dog dreams in a cool shady breeze.
And in winter on the hearthrug to snooze at your ease
With some one to worry if only you sneeze;
And call for aid if you develop a wheeze.
You even have help with chasing your fleas!
Lucky dog! Get down on your knees

Ah, Colleen, Ye'll Find Thim, Niver Fear

R. H. L.: Whin I was a little colleen, me grandfather, God rest his soul, told me that if I was as good as gold all the year 'round, on New Year's eve, if I closed me eyes and wished hard enough, a little fairy, as light as a piece of thistledown, floating on a summer breeze, would fly in the window, and give me the gift of health, wealth, and happiness for the coming year. Of course, nothing whatever happened, and I used to get terribly disappointed. And now sometimes on New Year's eve I find meself closing me eyes and half expecting to see a bright fairy forninst me whin I open them. Isn't it strange, macushla, whin you're Irish, you never quite outgrow your belief in leprechains and the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow? THE BELLS OF SHANDON.

Aren't We All?

Martin: "Don't you think John always spends quite a bit of time and thought on his Christmas presents?"

Millie: "Yes—but that's all." JOD.

WE HAVE CHANGED the starting point for the Water Wagon from the corner of Randolph and Clark streets to the Water Tower at Chicago avenue and North Michigan. The start from the Water Tower will be made promptly at the last stroke of 12, midnight, which marks the beginning of the New Year and of all New Year resolutions. The Water Wagon, after being loaded with passengers (the passengers also loaded), will proceed eastward until it reaches Lake Michigan, where the lecturer will point out the lake to the passengers, tell how much water it contains, and explain the various uses of water. The guests will then join in singing "Little Drops of Water," and the Water Wagon will continue its voyage.

We Had You in Mind

Dick: Libraries, universities, historians, economists, students—all posterity will need the Line's New Imperishable Rag Paper Edition as a permanent record of the once in a hundred—yes, a thousand—years that I made the Line.

HIS ESCORT

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 30, 1862.

CAIRO.—No change of importance has taken place on the road below Columbus. The rebels are still there. We had reports that a federal force from Jackson had repaired the railroad and that trains were running to Trenton, but these probably have no foundation in fact. If Forrest is not speedily driven off there is reason to fear that he will be reinforced and that Jackson and even Corinth will have to fall.

CAIRO.—From a gentleman just from Holly Springs, Miss., we have reliable information that Grant's entire army had fallen back north of the Tallahatchie, and most of it had reached Holly Springs. The latest rumor is that part of it reached Coldwater, and that probably the bulk of the army is on its way to Memphis. Rosecrans' inactivity is much complained of in Grant's department, the charge being that but for this the rebels could not have spared the force to cut off Grant's supplies. Gen. Sherman undoubtedly has reached his destination at Vicksburg ere this.

WASHINGTON.—There was great excitement at Alexandria yesterday, growing out of the hurried arrival of some of our cavalrymen, who reported that Stuart's cavalry, with light artillery, had appeared at Pohick Church, and proceeded to Accountink, 12 miles from Alexandria, and there attacked two or three companies of troops. There is difficulty in arriving at the precise truth, but that the rebel reconnoissance appeared in the neighborhood is beyond question.

CHICAGO.—Evin Martin Ericksen of Christiania, Norway, and Miss Marie Eleonore Olsen of Chicago were married by the Rev. J. Bredberg on Dec. 28. John Martin of St. Joseph, Mich., and Miss Jane E. McLaughlin were married at St. Patrick's church on Dec. 29 by the Rev. Dr. McMullin, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Dunne. In Springfield, Mass., Ransom W. Dunham of Chicago and Miss Hattie B. Morris of that city were married on Dec. 25.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 30, 1902.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has selected Robert B. Armstrong of Chicago, now Mr. Shaw's private secretary, to be first assistant secretary of the treasury, to succeed Gen. O. L. Spaulding, the oldest high official of the treasury. Armstrong is only 27 years old.

CHICAGO.—Robert Edeson and his company opened at Powers' theater in Augustus Thomas' play, "Soldiers of Fortune," from Richard Harding Davis' novel.

CHICAGO. — Miss Alice Chandler, daughter of Edward Bruce Chandler, and Lieut. Oliver Lyman Spaulding Jr., artillery corps, U. S. A., son of Gen. and Mrs. O. L. Spaulding, were married at Christ Reformed church by Bishop Cheney. Thomas Spaulding of West Point was his brother's best man.

CHICAGO.—Robert Weems Tansill, once a well known Chicago cigar manufacturer, died at Carlsbad, N. M. He was the pioneer of the advertised cigar. He manufactured "Tansill's Punch," a 5 cent cigar, and not only advertised it extensively, but established branches for its sale all over the northwest. It was the first time anything of that sort had been done. He retired ten years ago worth $1,000,000.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 30, 1917.

CHICAGO.—The maximum temperature yesterday was 13 above at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the minimum was 1 below zero at 7:30 a. m. The greater part of the nation is in the grip of zero weather.

CHICAGO.—Lieut. John A. Vincent of Chicago, son of former Judge William A. Vincent, is one of the eight officers and crew of the United States destroyer Fanning to be commended for bravery by Secretary of the Navy Daniels for their part in sinking a German U-boat and taking prisoners from the submarine.

EMOTION IN THE COURTROOM.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The duty of any jury is to arrive at a fair verdict, if possible, but instead of considering only the merits of the case, the jury generally regards itself as an umpire, with the function of deciding a contest between opposing teams of lawyers. As a result, lawyers do not present the evidence in the shape of cold facts, but feel constrained to work in a lot of verbose fireworks, calculated to influence the human feelings of the individual members of the jury.

In conducting a murder trial, or any trial, why should cheap dramatics be allowed to outrank logic?

In the Remus case there was an inordinate display of showmanship; there was bad blood, petty temperamental outbursts, and personal ill feeling shown by counsel on either side, because of ethics which allowed going to any length, in order to discredit an opposing witness.

Every single witness was asked, if he, personally, considered Remus sane, at the moment of the murder. Like parrots, every witness for the state opined that Remus was sane, while every defense witness declared his belief that he was not. Will someone explain just how the opinion of a sixteen year old bellboy witness should have any value on that question?

Intelligent candidates can too easily dodge jury duty. The result is often a jury composed of half wit sentimentalists, easily influenced by the vaudeville show put on by the lawyers, with no concern for the real facts of a case.

Closing arguments ought not be more than cold summary of the facts as disclosed by the evidence, but counsel's final plea is usually composed as an appeal to the emotions, rather than to the reason and intelligence of the jury.

JOSEPH D. LAWRENCE.

UNCLE SAM, EMPLOYER.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—I applied for a job at the postoffice about two weeks ago. After going through a lot of red tape, giving your fingerprints, etc., also paying 45 cents (borrowed) for a bond, finally, after six hours, I was hired and told to report at 7:30 next morning. I worked about eight days, averaging twelve hours per day, at 55 cents per hour; was laid off Christmas eve at 12:30 p. m. and told to get my money at the postoffice. We all went there with visions of a cheerful Christmas, only to be informed that there were no orders to pay off. We were told to return Tuesday, and did so, only to be told to come back Thursday afternoon. Now I am broke, but carrying a voucher for $36 which I cannot cash. I have tramped the streets every night since then and gone hungry.

EX NAVY MAN.

UNDER WATER WEIGHT.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—I wish Commander Ditwell would explain in detail how a submarine weighing 350 tons would weigh 2,000 tons if submerged to a distance of 100 feet. It has always been my understanding the weight of any object immersed in a liquid would be decreased by the weight of the liquid displaced. The pressure of the water being the same on all sides would not affect the weight. Of course, I learned this in a "landsman" school, which undoubtedly accounts for my ignorance.

C. J. KNUDSEN.

OLD-FASHIONED WINTER.

Chicago, Dec. 25.—What will readers of the present time think of the last clause of Mrs. Herrick's quotation in today's TRIBUNE from the issue of Dec. 18, 1871, as follows: "The brave paper parcel attached to every man and woman paddling through the mud"?

At that time the writer was a student home on vacation and engaged in cutting cordwood on a Wisconsin farm. In that latitude, where we were used to have zero weather accompanied by deep snows at this season, the climate had been mild and unusually wet, so that when we felled a tree it almost buried itself in the softened soil. Our team was in the field plowing up to and including Dec. 21. A cold wave came upon us that night, and the ground froze very hard before it was over.

On Christmas day, 1871, a steamboat excursion on the Mississippi river reached St. Paul, 200 miles north of Chicago, without so much as encountering floating ice cakes. Now, it will be remembered that Chicago, being less than one-half as old in years as at present and lying in the mud of the present loop district, could well be represented as "paddling through mud."

We sometimes hear mention of "old-fashioned winters" as though the winters of an earlier day were always of the severe kind and the present winter much milder. Looking back over those I have experienced, and taking into consideration that Chicago climate would naturally be milder than would be encountered farther to the northwest, I do not find this claim justified. I have, however, noted a great contrast as between two winters of the same decade, as experienced in the same locality. It was also in the '70s that the North Western, in order to cross the Mississippi at Winona, after the breaking down of the first drawbridge in testing, laid a temporary track on the ice and used it for freight and passenger traffic for several months. Later the Milwaukee did the same thing at La Crosse. Thus you will see we had mild winters mixed with the severe, the same as at present.

R. H. L.

GOVERNMENT EXHIBITS.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Instead of renting stores on the ground floor of the city hall, why not turn the ground floor space (not only in this building, but also in the federal building) into exhibit rooms? Let the local and federal governments maintain on the ground floors of these buildings, accessible from the street, exhibits of the work of the departments of health, the board of election commissioners, the bureau of weights and measures, the postoffice inspection service, treasury department work, army and navy service—all these things which are included in a government exhibit at a world's fair. These ground floor exhibits of government service and efficiency would make a constant hit with the people.

CHESTER B. PERRY.

BY WAY OF CONTRAST.

TEAPOT DOME TRANSFERRED BACK TO NAVY

Formal Decree Entered in U. S. District Court.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Teapot Dome, rich Wyoming oil field, was transferred back to the United States navy today, the final step in the cancellation of the lease on the property which, the government charged, Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, obtained through fraudulent dealings with Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior.

The transfer was accomplished through a formal decree entered in federal District court here by Judge T. Blake Kennedy. It carried out the mandate of the United States Supreme court, which had sustained the allegations of fraud and ordered the lease canceled.

Fails to Salvage Anything.

Sinclair failed in an effort to salvage perhaps a million dollars from the wreckage. Judge Kennedy overruled a motion of counsel for the Mammoth Oil, a Sinclair concern, which sought to have inserted in the decree a provision that a quit claim deed to land in the reserve, delivered by the company to the United States as a prerequisite to the lease, should be returned.

Owen J. Roberts of government counsel resisted the motion. While counsel for the government characterized the quit claim as probably "worthless," other appraisements of its worth have been as high as $1,000,000.

Judge Kennedy, in denying the motion for the incorporation of the provise for the return of title to oil placer locations made in the reserve area prior to its withdrawal from entry, said he "would not go outside the mandate of the Supreme court of the United States in saying what shall be done here."

Plan Appeal from Ruling.

This action of the court left the United States in possession of the quit claim and possession, therefore, of title to the reserve, which is undisputed save by the Mammoth's assertion of right to them. Counsel for the Mammoth indicated intent to appeal from the ruling of the court.

The signing of the cancellation decree brought to an end litigation instituted more than two years ago by special government counsel named by President Coolidge.

Teapot Dome covers an area of 9,321 acres in Natrona county. It was set aside as a naval oil reserve by executive order of the President of the United States on April 30, 1915. President Harding issued an order on May 31, 1921, purporting to commit the administration of all oil and gas bearing lands in the naval reserves to the secretary of the interior, subject to the supervision of the President.

This followed the leasing of Teapot Dome to Sinclair by Fall and Edwin Denby, then secretary of the navy.

DOUBLE THE FORCE OF COPS TO KEEP THE LOOP CLEAR

Nearly 500 policemen will be stationed in the loop next Tuesday morning when the no parking ordinance goes into effect, Capt. Frank Matchett, commander of the traffic division, announced yesterday.

Capt. Matchett told Chief Hughes that even with all of the 250 men in the traffic division concentrated in the loop, it will take that many more at the start to keep traffic on the move. Later, he believes, the detail may be reduced to normal.

"The chief has ordered us to treat all alike," Capt. Matchett said. "No politicians or anybody else will be shown any favors, regardless of the 'official' stars on their machines. We intend to carry out the city council's plan to give the ordinance a fair trial."

The only exceptions to the no-parking rule will be trucks, which will be given a half hour to unload, fire and police cars, newspaper cars, and public utility cars while on business.

WAGE INCREASE GIVEN COLORADO MINERS ON JAN. 1

Denver, Colo., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Colorado Fuel and Iron company, largest producing coal operators in Colorado, today announced a wage increase for coal miners at all its southern Colorado mines effective Jan. 1, 1928. The increase is the second since Sept. 1.

Under the new increase, totaling 32 cents a day, coal miners will receive a basic wage of $6.52. This is $1 a day more than was paid prior to Sept. 1.

The strike of Colorado coal miners called on Oct. 13 by the Industrial Workers of the World followed a demand for a restoration of the Jacksonville scale of $7.75 a day in Colorado mines. The strike was started in the face of a wage increase of 68 cents a day granted by the C. F. & I. on Oct. 1.

Gets New Instruments to Test Wind Velocity

P. E. Johnson, government meteorologist at the University of Chicago, yesterday was making experiments with the new anemometers, scientific instruments for measuring the velocity of the wind, which are to be installed at the observatory of the university. The new mechanisms, said to be far more accurate than the old, are to be installed in all government weather bureaus on Jan. 1.

Delicatessen King, Aim of N. U. President's Son

Looking forward to the day when he will be a big chain store proprietor, perhaps a Woolworth, John Scott, son of President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university, this morning will open a delicatessen to be known as the Menu Shop at 508 Main street, Evanston. He said yesterday if business is good he will branch out and open a chain of others in Chicago.

To be perfectly frank about it, there have been better years for the Winter clothing trade than 1927.

Blame the weather if you choose, or overproduction.

We've sold more than our usual quota of highest cost Rogers Peet clothing, but think it good business to turn some of our Winter suits into money.

Started Tuesday with 312 suits that were $75 to $90.

29 were $90
97 were $85
53 were $80
123 were $75

They are now $65!

GERMAN PAPER EXPOSES TROOPS' HUGE EXPENSES

Pacifists Demand Probe by Reichstag.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—The question of "hidden armaments" in Germany, which were prohibited by the Versailles treaty, will be raised in sensational fashion by the Berliner Tageblatt tomorrow. It compares the expenditure of the German reichswehr (militia) with that of the Prussian police, which force is controlled by the staunchly republican Prussian government, and reveals that the reichswehr's expenses for equipment are far greater than the actual cost of the same equipment for the police.

The paper, fearing prosecution for high treason, will not suggest how the sums resulting from these differences may have been spent. It will merely state them and permit its readers to draw their own conclusions.

Police Equipment Better.

The armament and equipment of the policeman is equal, and in some respects, superior to that of the reichswehr infantryman, yet a reichswehr rifle is listed in the accounts at $13, whereas a policeman's rifle of the same model, plus a pistol, costs $7. The uniform for the soldier is listed at $67. The policeman's more complete uniform is $34. Housing the reichswehr is set at $92 per capita, while the policeman's housing costs $43, though the reichswehr uses pre-war barracks and the police mostly new ones.

Reichswehr Expense Higher.

The reichswehr's automobile section expenditure is set at $4,130,000; the police section, which is much larger, amounts only to $1,152,000. Hygienic appliances for the reichswehr are charged at $16 per capita each year, while similar appliances for the policemen cost only $4 each. Educating 100,000 reichswehr men costs $3,013,000, while educating 73,000 policemen costs $630,000.

PROTEST GARAGE PLAN ON SITE OF LAWSON HOME

Neighbors Tell City Plan Is Illegal.

Astor street residents yesterday petitioned the city to hold up a permit for the erection of a twenty-four story apartment building on the site of the old home of Victor F. Lawson, at 1500 Lake Shore drive. It is charged that the plans for the building include more garage space than the city ordinance allows and that the value of neighborhood property is endangered.

The petitioners, headed by Mrs. Jacob Baur, sent in their protest to Building Commissioner Christ Paschen through Ald. Titus Haffa. They pointed out that the zoning ordinances would not allow more than 15 per cent of the total area of the site to be used for garage purposes. This, it was claimed, would accommodate at most sixteen automobiles, while the syndicate owning the projected building has announced a plan for a garage to hold seventy-five cars, or more than one for each apartment.

Repair Work Protested.

"Supposedly," Mrs. Baur said, "the automobile storage space will be used only by the residents of the building. But if seventy-five automobiles are stored there it is likely there will be repair work. This, of course, will make noise and detract from the present value of our residences on Astor street."

Among the signers of the petition are Charles Netcher, Mrs. Cyrus Bentley, Henry R. Hanley, Mrs. William H. Rehm, Mrs. Thomas Dennehy, Mrs. Gustavus Swift, Edward Blair, Mrs. Lucille Cox, and Mrs. Jennie Cox.

Building to Cost $5,000,000.

The promoters of the building are the Peter F. Reynolds syndicate. Among the principal stockholders, many of whom have already announced their intention of purchasing and living in the apartments, are George W. Woodruff, vice chairman of the directorate of the National Bank of the Republic; Lucius Teter, president of the Chicago Trust company; Dayton Keith and John W. O'Leary, vice presidents of the same institution.

The estimated cost of the structure is $5,000,000. It was announced that Mr. Woodruff had purchased the eighteen room bungalow on the roof.

NANKING CHIEFS QUIT; SHAKEUP IN CHINA LOOMS

Peking Forces Gird to Stop Nationalists.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, China, Dec. 29.—C. C. Wu, Nationalist foreign minister, announced his resignation today. He issued a statement to the effect that while the Nanking Nationalist government had been able to obtain control of the former British concessions at Hankow and Kiukiang, it had been unable to accomplish its major ambition, a treaty revision, owing to internal dissension, which prevented unified action to bring pressure on the foreign nations.

Mr. Wu's resignation, as well as the resignation of Sun Fo, son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, from the finance ministership, clears the slate for a governmental reorganization under Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, who has accepted the post of generalissimo of the Nationalist forces and probably will assume office formally at Nanking early next month.

The new government personnel has not been announced, pending the meeting of the fourth plenary session of the Kuomintang, which is scheduled to be held in Nanking about Jan. 5. The new cabinet probably will contain T. V. Soong, Harvard graduate and brother-in-law of the late Dr. Sun, as finance minister, and C. T. Wang as foreign minister, indicating the growing influence of Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, whose power is increasing in proportion to his victories over Gen. Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord.

Gen. Chiang is negotiating a loan of $15,000,000 from the Shanghai bankers for the purpose of financing a military campaign against the north China forces supporting the Peking government.

Returns to Canton.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Gen. Li Chai-Sum returned today to Canton, whence his forces were ousted last month by a coup d'etat staged by a subordinate, Gen. Chang Fak-Wei. Canton since then has undergone terrific upheavals, in which thousands of persons were killed.

Chang Spurns Presidency.

PEKING, China, Dec. 29.—Although petitions have been circulated urging Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Peking dictator, to assume the presidency of China, he turns a deaf ear. He is devoting his entire energies to restoring order in North China and even has canceled the New Year's reception. He is withdrawing his forces from the Shansi mountain barriers and is preparing a shorter southern line from the railway junction at Shihchiachwang to Tehchow, on the Shantung border, along which only Manchurian troops are placed.

U. S. PRISONERS HELD IN COUNTY JAILS INCREASE

Federal prisoners held in various county jails have increased almost 100 per cent during the past year, the records of United States Marshal Palmer Anderson showed yesterday. The disclosure followed reports from Washington that all the federal penitentiaries are crowded beyond their capacity.

The federal prisoners held yesterday in county jails, serving sentence or awaiting trial here in the federal courts total 252. This compares with 131 held at the same time last year.

The prisoners are distributed in the various county jails as follows: Cook, 73; Ogle, 3; Lake, 10; McHenry, 26; DeKalb, 80; Kane, 1; DuPage, 18; House of Correction, 17; Kendall, 4; Will, 9; Stephenson, 2; Winnebago, 8; Grundy, 1, and Whiteside, 1.

$10,000 Pearls Found in Rabbish Go to Bootblack

Peter Kyrakos, a bootblack, yesterday was proudly exhibiting as his own the $10,000 pearl necklace that he found last May in a heap of street sweepings at the Canal street entrance of the Union station. Police confiscated the string when Kyrakos took it to a jeweler to have it appraised. Municipal Judge Howard Hayes on Wednesday decided that since there was no claimant, the pearls belonged to the man who found them.

1927 AMONG BEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY—CERMAK

President Anton J. Cermak of the county board yesterday made public his annual report, an accounting of his stewardship as head of an institution, Cook county, which spends $50,000,000 a year.

"The year of 1927 has written into the administrative history of Cook county," he opened his message, addressed to the county commissioners, "a record second to none in the annals of the political subdivision of which you and I are administrative officers."

The first of 1927 accomplishments taken up by President Cermak was the launching of the $15,000,000 road building program which he described as "the most extensive wider highway and better highway program ever attempted by any county in the United States."

The second 1927 project taken up by President Cermak is the $15,000,000 Chicago hall. Progress on this enterprise is being delayed a few months while the courts pass on a technicality regarding the legality of the bond issue.

During the year, work has progressed and is now nearing completion on additions to the Cook County hospital, the new children's hospital, the new men's ward, the new receiving building, and the new morgue building. The cornerstone of the $7,500,000 Criminal Courts and County Jail building was laid and it will be opened soon.

Rebel Band in Mexico Loots Railway Station

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—(AP)—A band of fifty rebels, El Universal Grafico says, attacked and looted the railroad station at Tonilito, in the state of Jalisco, today. The paper says also that on Dec. 23 four rebels were killed and three federal soldiers were wounded when a band of rebels near Colima attacked a train carrying several hundred convicts under federal guard.

WORK OF RAISING S-4 EXPECTED TO TAKE ALL WINTER

Divers Again Forced to Top by Weather.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Indications that the salvage work on the sunken submarine S-4 would continue all winter were given here today by Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, commanding the salvage fleet now assembled off Provincetown. He said on his arrival here on the coast guard cutter Tuscurara that he was en route to his New London home to pack enough clothes to last him through the winter, which he expects to spend on the diving ship Falcon, now anchored near the spot where the S-4 sank.

Admiral Brumby reported to Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, commandant of the Boston navy yard, that diving operations had to be suspended about noon today because of unfavorable weather.

Leave Another Line Around S-4.

"The divers," Admiral Brumby said, "secured another four inch manila line about the submarine's center this morning and were working on the second tunnel, a few feet forward of the S-4's gun, when the weather forced them to suspend."

"When this tunnel is finished, he said, "air will be blown into all of the submarine's undamaged compartments to expel the water, and then they will be raised. The next steps would be to have tugs pull chains through the tunnels under the submarine, secure them on top, lower pontoons and attach them to the chains, he said.

Admiral Brumby said that he planned to return to the salvage fleet on Saturday. During his absence, he said, Capt. Ernest F. King would direct the salvaging operations.

Had Plan to Save Crew.

Charles Shambaugh, wealthy Lafayette, Ind., garage owner, planned to save the crew of the sunken S-4 with a "submarine elevator," Admiral Brumby said.

"Shambaugh is a sincere and an earnest man," Admiral Brumby said, "and his idea had some merit, but it could not be used on the S-4 because the submarine's top side was not perfectly smooth.

"His plan, as he outlined it to us, was to bolt a huge steel cylinder, containing a water-tight bulkhead, to the submarine's top side, then cut a hole in the submarine's deck under the cylinder. The crew could then climb into the cylinder one by one and be hoisted to the surface if the operation was completed in time.

"The presence of the conning tower, deck and gun on the S-4, however, rendered this plan worthless. Mr. Shambaugh had never seen a submarine until he reached Provincetown, and until then thought they were cigar-shaped," Admiral Brumby said.

NAVY ABANDONS ITS SEARCH FOR GRAYSON PLANE

Only Chance for Clew Is in Ocean Ships.

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Everything that could be done by searchers of the sea and sky had been completed tonight and still no sign had been found of the plane Dawn and its crew of three men and a woman.

During the day, Lieutenant Commander Rosendahl of the dirigible Los Angeles announced that further search would be futile unless new clews developed. The two navy destroyers and three coast guard craft which have been searching the waves, completed their task without result, and Commander Stewart, directing the naval search, received permission to abandon it.

The Los Angeles is back in its hangar at Lakehurst, N. J., and by another day it is expected the five destroyers will have returned to their routine duties. A sharp lookout will be kept, of course, by all craft traversing the waters between Cape Cod, where the Dawn was last seen, and Harbor Grace, N. F., its destination, but hope had dwindled almost to nothing tonight.

Heard at Midnight Saturday.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Further reports were received here tonight that an airplane, believed to have been the missing Dawn, was heard distinctly near Heart's Content last Saturday night, more than twenty-four hours after Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and three companions had taken off from Roosevelt field, New York, for Harbor Grace.

Attorney General Higgins announced here tonight that he had received a telegram stating that the keepers of the Halfway house, between Carbonear and Heart's Content, had informed him today that they heard the drone of an airplane several times between 8 o'clock and midnight Saturday. They reported that the plane sounded as if it had been circling around seeking a place to land.

A snow squall was in progress at the time, they said. Their son and two telegraph operators, Richards and Oates, also heard the plane.

Another report came tonight from Joseph Sodero, government telegraph operator at Harbor Breton, on Fortune bay, that four women claim to have seen an airplane passing near Harbor Breton about 2 p. m. Saturday.

Flyer's Father Hopes On.

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Heart broken but still clinging to a slender thread of hope, Andrew J. Wilson, father of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson, prepared tonight to go to New York in quest of his missing daughter. Wilson, owner of a suburban grocery, has been trying to attend to business but finds it nearly impossible.

"I will go to New York whether any word form Frances is received or not," he said. "I don't know what I can do after I get there, but I feel I should be nearer to those who are conducting the search to help if I can."

CATCH YOUTH ATTEMPTING ROBBERY.

Albert Wynn, 26, of 3234 Vernon avenue was captured early yesterday when detectives fired at him and two others robbing the drug store at 559 East 49th street, in which the owner, Harry Halperin, recently shot and killed a Negro bandit.

ADOPT NAME FOR FAIR OF 1933 AND SEEK A CHARTER

Chicago's proposed world's fair in 1933 received further impetus yesterday when members of the temporary committee met in the offices of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, adopted a name, created a fund to defray immediate expenses, and proceeded to apply for a charter.

Application for the charter will be made under the state laws governing non-profit corporations and under the name of The Chicago Second World's Fair Centennial celebration. The committee will establish an office and build up an organization, it was announced.

Issues Founders' Memberships.

Founders' memberships, created to provide for temporary expenses, will be issued to citizens who contribute $1,000. Among the Chicago business men and officials who already have become founders are Rufus C. Dawes, president of the world's fair committee; K. L. Ames, Vice President Charles G. Dawes, B. E. Sunny, D. F. Kelly, C. S. Peterson, Mayor Thompson, Walter A. Strong, Samuel Insull, Walter H. Wilson, R. Floyd Clinch, William Randolph Hearst, Britton I. Budd, Alexander H. Revell, Albert D. Lasker, James E. Gorman, and Joseph E. Otis.

Although no public solicitation will be made, $50,000 has been certified by Chicago civic leaders, Mr. Dawes said. Membership in the founders group will be limited, he added.

Plan to Increase Boosters.

Creation of associate or booster memberships at a small fee is planned for a later date in order that a larger number of citizens may become active in boosting the project.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Rufus C. Dawes, James E. Gorman, D. F. Kelly, Chauncey McCormick, F. L. Bateman, Charles S. Peterson, Ames C. Miller, C. C. Carnahan and Daniel Gorman.

CUT WHILE SHAVING; DIES.

Irwin Seidman, 35, of 327 East 57th street, died in the Jackson Park hospital yesterday from an infection that followed a cut received while shaving a week ago.

BROTHER OF AL CAPONE, AID, AND GIRL ARRESTED

Ralph Capone, brother of Al Capone, a director of gambling, vice and booze activities in Chicago, and Tony Aruzzo, the latter's chauffeur, are to appear in the South Clark street court this morning, it was revealed last night, 24 hours after they were arrested in Jack Heinan's soft drink parlor at 2501 South Wabash avenue.

The two were arrested Wednesday night when Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor found them in the place. Mrs. Ethel Baker, 21, described by the chief as "a blonde who would knock your eyes out," who was found sitting in the back room with Capone, was arrested with them. Capone is charged with vagrancy and disorderly conduct; Aruzzo, with charges of carrying concealed weapons and disorderly conduct. The girl was charged with the latter.

She begged the chief to release her. "I didn't know he was Ralph Capone," she said. "I met him the night of the Tunney-Dempsey fight when I went to the Metropole hotel to a party. He was introduced to me as a brother of the late Jim Colosimo."

CAR ARBITERS HOLD SESSION; TO MEET AGAIN

Arbiters selected to adjust the wage demands of Chicago street car men met yesterday in offices of the surface lines for a brief session and then agreed to meet again this morning at 10 o'clock. Guy A. Richardson, vice president and operating chief of the surface lines, is representing the companies. Ald. Oscar F. Nelson, vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, is the employes representative.

Both arbiters announced on postponement of yesterday's session that no new developments had occurred.

The wage hearings involve approximately 22,000 transportation employes of both the surface and elevated lines. Employes of the elevated lines will be governed in their demands by the award made for the surface lines employes.

ROB MERCHANT OF $1,100.

Three bandits yesterday forced the automobile of Carmelo Fariano, commission merchant of 713 West Randolph street, to the curb at Logan boulevard and Elston avenue and robbed him of $1,100.

Next FRIDAY Whippet will be the most valuable car ever offered for so little money

John N. Willys
President, The Willys-Overland Company

AFTER months of preparation, we are ready to present the perfected Whippet for 1928.

You will be satisfied and delighted with every detail of its equipment and performance. You will be amazed when you learn how low is the price. For Willys-Overland resources and equipment are now such that no car of equal quality can be built and sold at a lower price.

Greatly Increased Facilities

Within its class, we believe, no car combines so many advantages—offers such remarkable value. To make it possible, our plans have included major revisions in factory equipment—a new body plant doubling our capacity—the addition of new departments—the installation of new and highly perfected machinery—and notable economies in production costs.

The factory service cost on the Whippet has been the lowest of any car we ever built. As a result, we have been able to minimize materially the usual allowances for service costs—another contributing factor to the lowered price of the 1928 Whippet.

Present light car standards are a tribute to the pioneering the Whippet has done. Four-wheel brakes—lower center of gravity—greater economy—greater roominess—quieter engines—faster speed and pick-up—great beauty—no one today would think of buying a car that had not made these advances.

Many Added Features

Among the many things you will like in the 1928 Whippet are improved bodies in a wide variety of beautiful colors, and fitted with cadet-type visor, full crown fenders, an engine that doubles its rated horse-power, full pressure lubrication, silent timing chain, gasoline tank in rear, long, semi-elliptic springs, oversize balloon tires and snubbers, an adjustable steering wheel, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror and stop light.

Holds Remarkable Records

Owners have driven and tested the Whippet for more than five hundred million miles. It has established record after record in proof of its superiority. It holds the A. A. A. Coast-to-Coast economy record, averaging 43.28 miles to the gallon. In a national economy test 5,508 owners averaged 38 miles to the gallon. Whippet established a record of 71.6 miles an hour in a speed test on Rockingham Park Speedway. It accelerates from 5 to 30 miles in 11.5 seconds; turns in a 17-foot radius, and parks in 14 feet of curb space.

We suggest you see the Whippet and get the new price next Friday. Examine it carefully. Compare it with any other car. Then ask about the easy plan to pay for it out of your income.

Engineering Leadership

In January, 1927 we made this prediction: "4-wheel brakes will be standard equipment on all cars, regardless of size, within the next 18 months."

In spite of this statement two and one-half million purchasers have since bought cars having only two-wheel brakes. These cars are now being rendered obsolete in point of brake equipment by changes on the part of manufacturers who had not yet sensed the coming trend.

ADVERTISING MEN CALLED BUILDERS OF U. S. WEALTH

Col. McCormick Tells Value of Tribune's Work

Advertising is the great builder of wealth and of public welfare in the nation, it was declared by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, in a congratulatory address last night to the members of the advertising staff of this newspaper, dining at the Drake hotel.

And as advertising is the present day premier force that makes for prosperity, the salesmen of advertising are dominant and indispensable members of society, Col. McCormick observed. The publisher pinned the badge of championship upon THE TRIBUNE'S advertising staff as being leaders of their profession over the whole world.

Recalls 1921 Victory.

Reviewing the time of financial stress and worry which swept over the nation in 1921, when depression spread worldwide and collapse was accepted as an existing fact, Col. McCormick said it had appeared that America must follow Europe into the depths of post-war economic despair.

"But, activated by a confidence in THE TRIBUNE and in yourselves," he continued, "you men of our advertising staff set out under the slogan—'1921 Will Reward Fighters'—to snatch success from the very jaws of defeat. You succeeded!

"Our success was outstanding. The success of those advertisers who followed THE TRIBUNE was as great. Their prosperity reached out in constantly widening circles to the benefit of others, so that I feel sure the impulse originating from THE TRIBUNE advertising banquet held in December, 1920, did much to stop the panic of 1921 and introduce the economic recovery for which the year 1922 is famous.

Cure for Overproduction.

"In 1921 you acted upon a conviction. You felt that your energy and the force of THE TRIBUNE could turn back hard times, but you had no theory to account for such a result. Since then, in the laboratories of your own department of research, and in the work of that celebrated economist, Harper Leech, we have found the cure for the disease of overproduction.

"To cure overproduction we have only to stimulate consumption. Greater consumption is brought about by salesmanship, which is the serum that cures industrial malady."

Continuing then on his theme of the economic supremacy of the salesmen of advertising, Col. McCormick reached this conclusion:

"Now, our advertising is to the salesmen what the steam shovel is to the digger. So the seller of advertising is the head of the clan. He occupies the top step on the top floor of modern civilization. The present era has shown the advertising department to be far more than a money maker. It is a great economic force in the maintenance and upbuilding of the welfare of the nation."

A Record for 15 Years.

For fifteen years THE TRIBUNE has published more millines of advertising than any other publication on earth, the publisher said.

"With this background," he concluded, "with this comprehension of your mission, with this summary of the leadership of THE TRIBUNE in the vast economic domain of salesmanship, we greet the New Year."

W. E. Macfarlane, advertising manager of THE TRIBUNE, in response to the publisher's message, pledged the staff to exert its greatest efforts in 1928.

Showfolk from leading hits of the town, including "The Desert Song," "A Night in Spain," and "Hit the Deck," joined with headliners from W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE'S radio broadcasting station, in entertaining the advertising men. W-G-N broadcast the address of Col. McCormick.

U. C. SCIENTIST WILL BE GIVEN MEDAL TONIGHT

The Penrose gold medal of the Geological Society of America will be presented to T. C. Chamberlin, professor emeritus of geology at the University of Chicago, at a dinner of the society in Cleveland, O., tonight.

PROF. T. C. CHAMBERLIN.

Prof. Chamberlin, who is 83 years old, first evolved the planetesimal theory of the earth's origin, which is now generally favored by scientists. Last spring he completed a revision of his earlier theories. His explanation is that all the planets were formed by disruption of a portion of the sun through the gravitational pull of some passing celestial body.

Paul Ash and Gang Top Program on W-G-N

PAUL ASH, Chicago's musical magician, resumes his series of Friday evening programs on W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, tonight between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

The popular maestro of the Oriental theater is celebrating his homecoming after a six weeks' vacation in Europe, and the first of his shows since his return will feature plenty of jazz and popular songs. Illomae Bailey, one of Paul's best known songbirds, and Paul Small, another popular tune crooner, will assist in making the show a success.

Selections by Victor Herbert, Mozart, and Rubinstein will be featured by Louis Katzman, director of the Anglo-Persians, in the program this orchestra is to present between 8 and 8:30 o'clock tonight. After the plaintive "Call to the Desert," which summons those broadcasting exponents of oriental music to their posts, the "Suite of Serenades" by Herbert will be played. These serenades are numbered among Herbert's finest writings. Later the radio audience will hear Rubinstein's "Toreador et Andalouse." Other interesting novelty programs will come from New York between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Edwin Kemp, the young tenor of W-G-N, will be heard in a twenty minute group of songs tonight at 10:40 o'clock. Kemp has been one of the most successful of the W-G-N singers and in his program tonight he will include a host of popular selections which have met with listeners' favor in the past. Fern Scull, W-G-N's staff accompanist, will be heard with Mr. Kemp in this program.

Friday night is also the time for the reading of Don Maxwell's weekly letter to the radio audience on sports of the week. Don is the sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, and each week by letter he has been keeping listeners informed on developments in all fields of sport. His appearance comes at 10:35 o'clock, following the playing of the Music Box, which starts at 10:20.

"South China" will be the subject of a travel talk to be given this afternoon at 3 o'clock by James Abbott, travel lecturer. Other afternoon features will be Mme. Gilderoy Scott's appearance during the Lyon & Healy artist recital, 2:30 to 3, and a half hour of piano selections by Fern Scull, 4 to 4:30 o'clock.

Theater Orchestra to Be Heard on WLIB

A mammoth popular program featuring Erskine Tate and his famous Vendome theater orchestra, to be heard between 11:45 and 12:45 o'clock tonight, is the high spot of the evening's entertainment from WLIB, the Liberty Weekly station on the Drake hotel. On the same program with Tate and his syncopators will be the popular Pullman porters and Carroll and Sorvillo, the entertaining "barber shop harmony boys."

One of the leading concert jazz orchestras in the city, Tate and his men will give an exhibition of the best in jazz. Among the more outstanding of their selections will be "My Blue Heaven," "St. Louis Blues," to be followed by a string arrangement by Tate called "Prairie Flower."

The Salernos, Frank and Lawrence, will be featured on the early evening program tonight from WLIB between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, singing a group of their best known selections.

A New Year's Wafer

Recipes like those for fairy ginger bread and other thin forms which are supposed to be rolled while they are hot always interest us because most people have such hard work making them into rolls. But the thinness of these little sweet things is comparable to that of the Japanese rice cakes, which are often rolled or bent merely and are exceedingly attractive. Therefore we noted, in another newspaper, a recipe from the French for what was interpreted as "shavings," and the shavings were supposed to look exactly like wood shavings when they were made. Narrow strips of the dough, after they were baked, were rolled up while they were instantly hot.

We took half the recipe and got some interesting things from it. The whole recipe read: "Five ounces of sugar, six ounces flour, two eggs, a few drops of vanilla flavoring. Beat the eggs till they are just well mixed, add the sugar and beat for thirteen minutes more. Put in the vanilla and then the flour, little by little, beating all the while. You ought to get a soft paste which is just firm enough to roll out. Roll it to tissue thinness and cut it into strips which are one-half inch wide and as long as your own sheet. Butter the oven sheet, lay the strips on it without letting them touch each other and cook in very hot oven. They will color almost at once.

"Take them up one by one, leaving the rest in a place where they will keep warm. Have ready a smooth stick—a hoop stick does well—with a little butter rubbed on to make it slippery. Twist each band lightly around the stick and let it remain a moment."

There must have been some further directions, but the clipping met with misfortune somewhere. We tried this and kept the dough overnight, when it could indeed be rolled to tissue paper thinness, and made wonderfully attractive pieces that we were inclined to call ice cream sticks because they were so good with ice cream. The dough rolled out as thin as paper, and tiny cookie cutters used gave charming effects, but the rolling around the stick to get a shavin gin any case was difficult.

We tried all temperatures for the baking from 350 degrees to over 500, and there seemed to be no difference in the snappiness and attractiveness of the products we tried.

Watch your throat!

Sudden changes of temperature and long exposure make you easy prey to sore throat, colds, grippe, and "flu." Don't let them get the jump on you. At the first sign of throat irritation, gargle with Listerine, the safe antiseptic. Immediately, it attacks disease-producing bacteria.

It has checked many a cold weather complaint before it had a chance to become serious. During cold weather use it systematically. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

Those New Resolutions.

Although logically New Year's day is the day on which to make resolutions, actually it is apt to be a poor occasion for any such serious occupation. Many of us usher the new year in at midnight and some of us continue the ushering for some hours after, with the result that New Year's day finds us quite let down and not any more inclined for mental gymnastics than for physical ones. Perhaps this isn't the ideal way to begin the new year, which, after all, is rather a serious occasion—but, as some one has so turly said, we are confronted with a condition, not a theory.

So, if you're working up some resolutions, it's a good plan to do it ahead of time and then they will be ready to go into operation on the first stroke of 1928.

And I believe in resolutions, because they usually mean you've been trying to stand off and get a perspective and that's a fine thing to do, even if the resolutions that follow aren't always kept to the exact letter.

And I believe in them especially as regards the children. There is always room for improvement where they are concerned. So if we're interested in resolutions now is a good time to consider them.

Let us make this week between Christmas and New Years yield something. It is a time when our affections are quickened, when the children are home from school, when some of the exacting routine of life goes by the board for the sake of festivity. It is a fruitful time to look over your children, their lives, and what you are doing for them, and to see it all in perspective.

What can you do for them that is going to mean a better and a happier year for all of you? Cast over in your mind your ideals for your family and honestly gauge whether you are doing your utmost to live up to them.

Have you been lax in expecting obedience from them?

Have you neglected their health to push them in their studies?

Have you coddled them too much for their own good?

Are you developing their independence?

Do you keep posted on their friendships?

Does your social life keep you from them?

Does devotion to your housework use up all your time?

Are you devoting yourself too much to the baby so it isn't good for him or you?

Are you allowing them to become selfish, to disregard you and their home life?

Are you seeing that they are properly fed to meet the demands of their growing bodies and minds?

The Woman in the Case

BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.

John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Palace hotel, London, in the early hours of morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman, who assures him that the rooms are untenanted. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Esmée and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of the peer. A little later he sees Esmée on the street and is not seen by her when she is knocked down by a motorcycle. Her dress is torn and he offers the rubberneck. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale, but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. They miss Esmée at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness, is about to cross over to Paris with Esmée. Arden takes the girl to the rooms of his friend Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeper over to her. Burke is forced to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Andy's apartment Arden confers with Detective Furneaux of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Esmée's behalf.

Following Furneaux suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace hotel, before going to bed, but he learns nothing from her, beyond catching a glimpse of Juan de Braganza, who claims, in spite of the girl's denials, to be Esmée's lover named Frankland.

INSTALLMENT XXXVI.

ARDEN'S PRIZE.

At any rate the two men had hardly disappeared through the doorway before Arden was on his feet. He did not hurry. The newspaper, his pipe, and a match supplied a pretext for dawdling in the outer lobby, so he saw the two women claim a telegram, read it, hesitate a moment, and then tear it, envelope and all, into many pieces, which he dropped into a waste paper basket.

And now Arden set himself a really difficult task. He meant to retrieve the shreds of brown and pink paper.

De Braganza, deep in thought, made off in the direction of the elevator. The hall was being constantly crossed and recrossed by people coming in, going out, or making for the various public rooms, and the best plan Arden could devise on the spur of the moment was to approach the bureau, write a telegram to Burke saying he would be at the club at 7:30, and trust to luck. Some favorable planet must have been high in the heavens that afternoon. Once into the basket showed that De Braganza's litter of tiny bits of paper had fallen in a heap on a newspaper already deposited there. Arden, still holding his own paper as an available shield, crumpled it up, stooped to place it in the basket, gave the paper lying underneath a couple of rapid folds, and he had secured his prize.

He was quite sure that no one had noticed his action, so he, too, walked to the elevator. In all probability he was the next to ascend after De Braganza.

In the privacy of his own room he examined his treasure trove. He could make nothing of it beyond the undoubted fact that it was a cablegram couched entirely in the Spanish language. But he did not attempt to put it together. That would call for time and patience and the requisite appliances. He bundled all the scraps into an envelope, dressed at leisure, put a small scissors in his pocket, and, before going out, collected from the office a quantity of gummed border attached to sheets of stamps. In effect, he purposed sharing the joy of discomfiture of ultimate discovery with his loyal comrades, the four two Musketeers!

He was a peculiar fellow, however. His method of proposing to Esmée supplied proof in plenty of an unusual mental kink, but further evidence was forthcoming when he told his story to his friends. Of course, he suppressed all the passages where describing the unexpected meeting with Esmée and Lord Farndale's butler in the park, but Andy Burke filled the gaps with an almost uncanny accuracy.

"I suppose you didn't let the grass grow under your feet when the aged party retainer took himself off?" he giggled.

"I certainly tried to let Esmée—Miss Bermore—understand—" he began.

"Quit said!" chuckled Andy. "Davidson, you and I are hereby appointed best bridegrooms, though I, for one, never took Johnnie for such a quick worker. Well, well! Sometimes God is good to other people than the Irish. We've got to celebrate, and the wherewithal is on me. . . . Walter, a quart of the best—no ice pail—ek dum! You know the number? . . . Well, if that's all you've got to tell us, Johnnie, we'd better look at the menu."

"It's not all, by any means," said Arden, thankful for the opening. Then he gave a full, true, and particular account of the incidents in the Park and hotel, but, single minded as ever, revealed certain qualms as to his right to pry into De Braganza's affairs.

"My turn!" broke in Davidson. "I think I'm the best linguist of the three. I can speak four languages after a style and have not forgotten the others. As for De Braganza, I'd hold him down and rob him of every letter in his possession. Blighters like him are outside the law.

"The real point is, Jimmie—can you read Spanish?" said Burke.

"No, but I can soon make out what the message is about. I suppose we'll have to go to your flat, and I'll borrow a Spanish dictionary from the librarian. They'll let me have one for an hour or so."

And that is what they did. Setting on one side all scraps of paper which bore no typed word they soon had the complete text assembled and joined together by strips of stamp margins. Evidently the cablegram originated somewhere than in Paris, because part was in French and part in Spanish. It ran:

"Following received today (begins) Officially verified (or attested) copy of marriage certificate posted today to Paris (ends)."

There was no signature. It bore the address of the Paris hotel at which De Braganza had stayed for some time, and apparently had been opened by the authorized person and retelegraphed to London.

For some seconds after Davidson had announced his translation there was silence in the room.

"What else could we expect?" he said, smiling pleasantly. "This document is De Braganza's ace of trumps. We've got to prove that it's a card from another pack—that's all. In any event, I may tell you, it will not make the slightest difference to Esmée and me. If the law is against her the same must help her to get rid of a blackmailer. If the law fails——"

"You'll choke the life out of him. Now, don't begin talking that way, Jimmie. We'll try and lead you to the altar in due course, but it will never do to turn Cockney and put an 'h' before the word."

Then Andy, from whom the others expected nothing but counsel of battle and sudden death!

"Isn't your spelling rather weak?" demanded Davidson.

"Some solemn old judge won't worry about that, old bean. Poor Johnnie needs looking after. He is no longer capable of thinking about anything except matrimony. Bet you he'll be humming the 'Hallelujah Chorus' before night is out."

"Do you, by any remote chance, mean the 'Wedding March'?"

"Sorry. I've always thought they were the same thing."

Arden rose.

"While you two are trying to be funny I'll give Furneaux a call. He ought to know."

"That's the stuff!" said Andy. "It won't surprise me the least bit if the little man doesn't knock the stuffing out of all our plotting and planning. I used to dab at that sort of thing, but I give best to our detective. Thumbs!"

And, indeed, Burke's faith in the C. I. D. was somewhat justified. Furneaux happened to be at the "Yard," and came to the 'phone.

"It's all right," he said enigmatically when Arden had told his story.

"What's all right?" was the natural demand.

"About that certificate. A copy is coming here by the same mail. Sorry you'll not be able to look in on the triumvirate tonight, but I shall see you tomorrow. Au revoir sans adieux!"

GASOLINE ALLEY—BACK TOWARD HOME

Dr. Angell Urges Legal Training on Wider Lines

Mere Technique Is Not Enough, He Says.

Law schools whose aim is to teach merely the technique of the legal profession have no place on the university campus, James Rowland Angell, president of Yale university, told the Association of American Law Schools at the Stevens hotel yesterday afternoon. His subject was "The University and the Law School."

No more do the medical, engineering, agricultural or other vocational departments belong in the university if their ambitions are limited to preparing their graduates for an isolated niche, President Angell asserted.

Departmentalization of American universities by a "congeries of professional schools and a swarming of newcomers for which it is difficult to find names," has deprived the institutions of team play and "integration into intellectual units," he continued.

The remedy lies in a more intimate correlation of all departments, Dr. Angell declared. In the case of the law school he made three suggestions for improvement and consequent benefit to the university.

First of all he suggested that the prospective law student canalize his pre-legal studies by concentrating on history and the social sciences. This would make the transition to definite legal problems easier and would give the student a breadth and depth to his study of the law, Dr. Angell said.

Then in the law school, he would have a number of specialists in fields associated with the law, such as government, trade regulation, and criminology. His third suggestion was that every member of the law faculty should be trained in one or more lines of correlated activity.

On the other side, Dr. Angell criticized the attitude of faculties and students who view the addition of vocational schools as intrusions on universities which should be purely liberal in their teachings. The "purely liberal" Dr. Angell characterized as the "cult of the useless."

Other speakers at the opening sessions yesterday afternoon and last night were Herbert F. Goodrich of the University of Michigan, Morris Raphael Cohen, New York City college, and Herman Oliphant, Columbia university.

LEADS PROM

MISS REGINA M. MIX.
[Gibson Studios.]

Miss Regina M. Mix, senior at De Paul university, is to be the partner of Richard L. Halpin, president of Notre Dame's Chicago club, at the annual holiday formal subscription reception and dance in the gold room of the Congress next Monday. The club has made elaborate preparations for this year's affair. The adjoining rooms surrounding the gold room have been reserved for the different sectional groups and for out of town students.

Crerar Librarian Says Europe Needs U. S. Propaganda

One hundred per cent Americans interested in foreign propaganda have a real problem before them, but it is not the one to which Mayor Thompson is devoting himself, according to Dr. J. C. Bay, librarian of John Crerar library, who spoke yesterday at the Drake hotel before the American Library institute.

"Of course there is propaganda in Chicago," Dr. Bay said. "There is not only British propaganda, but even a greater amount of propaganda of other nations. But that is nothing to cause alarm. Propaganda is a good thing; it is life itself and we need more of it. We need American propaganda in Europe, where we are grossly misunderstood."

Carl B. Roden, Chicago public librarian, reported that increased reading in this city was shown by 1,082,672 more calls for books in 1927 than in 1926. This includes only the public library and its branches, none of the private circulating or reference libraries.

Good morning!

KIND: Comedy. [So-called.]

IS IT? I didn't think so.

ACTING: All right.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Ditto.

DIRECTION: Exceedingly common Arden variety.

REMARKS: The film is an adaptation of the stage play that was such a favorite. Cheaply farcical situations and some vulgar ones have been introduced. As adapted, the film is no sort of vehicle for Sidney Chaplin, and it's a shame to waste the great comedian of "The Better 'Ole." By the way, this film has been directed by the man who directed "The Better 'Ole." I can't understand it.

At the Playhouse, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" with John Barrymore and that splendid Alaskan film are showing. If you haven't seen the two of them, better not let them get away from you this time.

See you soon.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. Edward H. Dupuis, 1635 East Court street, Kankakee, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Would you work if you had an independent income?

The Answers.

J. F. Cullina, 1125 Fairfield boulevard, street car conductor—Naturally I would work. I don't know what I would work at. I wouldn't work for a living, but I would find some little business of my own that would keep my mind busy and would be useful.

David Bloomberg, 2317 Cortez street, salesman — I would work, because it isn't pleasant lying around doing nothing. One needs something to do besides watching time pass by. I would have a nice big car and travel quite a bit; yes, and, like everybody else, I would want to take trips to Europe occasionally.

Newton Myers, 1340 Spaulding avenue, salesman—I would finish the law course that I started and had to pass up for lack of funds. Not long ago I learned that one of my law student days chums is going right to the top of the profession, and I wish I were following in his footsteps.

Jerry Zvolanek, 2425 South 56th court, Cicero, abstractor—I would first get a good legal education. Then I would tour the world. After that I would return to Chicago, open an office, and stay with the law game. As matters stand, I believe the practice of law will be my vocation, regardless of financial considerations.

Louis Duberstein, 3337 Douglas boulevard, city hall elevator operator — I would take life grand and easy for a while—I have already had a lot of ups and downs. I'd buy a machine, and I would take my family on a long tour from town to town, visiting our friends and so on. I don't know what all I would do, but I would be doing something.

American Girl Spoils Her Beauty with Paint, Ganna Walska Avers

PARIS, Dec. 29.—[U. P.]—American women never have advanced beyond the kindergarten age in the science of feminine makeup, in the opinion of Ganna Walska McCormick of Chicago and Paris.

"American women actually paint a face on top of their faces, and few of them are good enough artists to improve on the original," Mme. Walska said.

"I feel like spanking the 18 year old American girls whom I see take out their lipsticks and, in front of everybody in the theater or restaurant, put another pair of lips on top of their own. That appears to be their lifework, their greatest worry.

"But those women should know that men don't like to kiss greasy lips and that no man can express his deep devotion by kissing the backs of hands. In the first place, American women rarely need any makeup. The American girl is far more beautiful than the French, but after they get through with their toilet the French girl is far more attractive.

"It is simple to make up, for makeup is to help nature and not to change it. Instead of shaving off the eyebrows just to draw a pencil line, it would be better to use the pencil just to point up the eyebrows.

"The American woman knows little about perfumes, and sometimes it is terrible to sit beside them in a warm theater, even as terrible as to sit beside some of these European men who cover themselves with rosewater. Both are simply displaying their absurd lack of taste."

THEATER

"CRISS CROSS";

Song-and-dance piece, in two acts, designed by Otto Harbach, Anne Caldwell, R. H. Burnside, Jerome Kern, and others for the especial uses of Fred and Dorothy Stone; made known in Chicago (by Charles Dillingham) December 26, 1927, in the Erlanger Theater, with this cast:

Christopher Cross.....Mr. Stone
Dolly Day.....Miss Stone
Captain Carleton.....Roy Hoyer
Yasmini.....Lucy Monroe
Bansni.....Oscar Ragland
Selima.....Lydia Scott
Mazeroux.....John Lambert
Virgiatore.....Auguste Aramini
A priest.....George Herman
Comtess de Parsano.....Viola Gillette

USAGE is that, when Fred Stone comes to town, one in my position writes a "notice" rather than a "criticism." It isn't that he comes so often: once in three seasons is his routine; and it isn't that he cares: he's of the favored few among performers who would be believed if they said they never read the newspapers; and it isn't that I'm deeply concerned: the week is rather jammed, with seven "openings" and an unhappy schedule of matinees, so that it is pleasant to take on Mr. Stone of an evening when the afternoon has been devoted to Shakspere, the previous evening to Maugham, and other evenings and afternoons to whoever wrote the pieces in the Cort, the Blackstone, the Adelphi, and the Central, with not a chance for an hour with Miss Fannie Brice and Jim Toney, who was so funny when I saw him in 1922. And I remember that, when Mr. and Miss Stone were here in something named "Stepping Stones," what I wrote was a rhapsody about Miss Stone, with incidental mention of her dad. . . . So, let's have a notice of them in the drama of love, greed, chicane, derring-do, and rewarded virtue entitled "Criss Cross."

Let's. . . . Well, Miss Stone, at the end of the first act, is about to utter with maidenly reluctance the affirmative responses whereby she will be made the wife of an under-cover man for the Algerian anti-salooners when out of a clear sky-border comes Mr. Stone, prehensilely attached to a swinging ladder, and sweeps her right off her feet, the ground, and her guard, and takes her with him into the second act, where she does dancing quite unlike what she did in "Stepping Stones." Then what Mr. Stone terms a lady dromedary comes on, and does a dance with him, after which sixteen girls with the Tiller label and the Tiller drill-marks do another dance. When I add that Mr. Ragland is frightfully put out when he learns that Mr. Stone is in possession of the essential matter of the last will and testament of some fellow who died before the first act, you have a clear idea of what it's all—or nearly all—about.

Miss Stone's dancing is best when she is using the idiom learned from her father: when they dance together, that is something! But she is a more versatile soubrette than when here early in 1925: she is come along quite a bit in her acting, her singing, and in dancing far removed from even the "foundation" of Mr. Stone's traditional style. She is so delightful and so lovely a girl in the Erlanger that I have the urge to write another rhapsody about her. . . .

Mr. Stone restores some of his old tricks and illusions, submits some that are both new and effective, and is, as ever, an amazing fellow when in physical action. He goes headfirst through walls and windows, vaults as if Newton were all wrong about the statutes appertaining to gravity, and is as reckless as he was back in the nights when he, Miss Janis, and David Montgomery were in the Illinois in "The Lady of the Slipper."

There is tumbling by Arabs; there is a review of all the other Fred Stone shows, with girls wearing Benda masks to reawaken memories of him as he looked in "The Wizard of Oz," "Chin-Chin," "Tip Top," and so on; there is some pretty music in Mr. Kern's score, including many a tune that was pretty ere Mr. Kern was born. . . . There is a reminder that time flies in the fact that Miss Monroe, the principal soprano, is the daughter of Anna Laughlin, who was Dorothy in "The Wizard of Oz." . . . There is a dandy little daisy of a pianist in the pit with the musicians; her name is Mary Cook. . . . And there is Mr. Dillingham, evidence that the costumes haven't been of late to the cleaner's.

Van Gordon and Ringling Share Opera Honors

Their Singing Big Items of "Lohengrin."

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Two items in an up-and-down performance of "Lohengrin" at the Auditorium last night remain in memory as the highest of the ups. One was the singing of Cyrena Van Gordon when she was alone on the stage about the middle of the first act, a gorgeous outburst, the finest I remember from her in all her Chicago career, and certainly the finest in the first two acts of this performance. For the third I cannot bear witness. The hour grew late and the dead-line called.

The second was the impersonation all the way through of Robert Ringling as Telramund. It was the best Telramund heard in years, perhaps since the last time that Clarence Whitehill sang it on that stage. It was no end unconventional. Mr. Ringling looked a great deal more like Alberich in the "Ring" than like any ordinary Telramund, in fact. It was pointed out to me that with a little less hair on his head he would have looked like Alfred Hertz.

But he was alive every minute; he sang more robustly than any one would have imagined that he could; he spit malignant venom with every word; he was a character, and that character was Telramund.

The performance in general was based upon disregard for the conventions, not always working as well as in Mr. Ringling's case. The first act was not the meadow on the bank of the Scheldt, as announced in the program, but a scene outside the castle gate, with the king's seat under a tree at the rear center. It was a magnificent picture, one of the best.

Rene Maison was the Lohengrin, a fine looking person whose voice seems better planned for the sterner accents of Wagner than the wooing suavity of the Faust he sang a few nights before. There was a somewhat curious effect in his singing, however, and it applied also to Leone Kruse's Elsa and Alexander Kipnis' King Henry. All three delivered great performances considered as singing, but in two acts there was not so much as a note of tenderness to be divided among the trio.

The whole first act seemed more like a bad tempered family row than the defense of an innocent maiden by a magical champion before a sympathetic judge. It almost got into the excellent performance of Howard Preston's herald, but he managed to preserve the impersonality of his characterization fairly intact.

Henry G. Weber at the conductor's stand drove the performance with all possible speed and a great amount of warmth. The chorus did some episodes well and elsewhere established a season's record for getting off pitch.

But what an amount of padding there is in "Lohengrin," and how it demands an unsparing blue pencil!

Maier and Pattison Score.

Guy Maier one day made a quite startling discovery. While browsing through the Chopin Etudes he came to the conclusion that the two in G flat major would sound uncommonly well if he and Lee Pattison played them simultaneously. Among the composers this is known as counterpoint; in Mr. Maier's case perhaps the correct term would be explorers' counterpoint.

At any rate he and Mr. Pattison played them at the Blackstone hotel yesterday morning and made the hit of their brilliant careers. Perhaps Leopold Godowsky could play the two with his right hand and add a third with his left for good measure, but the Maier-Pattison performance was tricky and cheery and inspiriting enough for any one.

They have a totally new program this year, a fugue by Daniel Gregory Mason, Mr. Pattison's arrangement of "The Arkansaw Traveler," and a two-piano version of Liszt's "Don Juan" Fantasy among the other numbers. The last is as good as the solo arrangement and no better, but Maier and Pattison are themselves so good that they almost make it seem better.

Doris Doe, the contralto, was their associate on the program, a singer with personality, brains and expression, reaching high points with songs by the unrelated Erich Wolff and Hugo Wolf, "Alle Dinge Haben Sprache" and "Auf dem Grünen Balkon." As an encore she introduced a song by Robert Yale Smith with words out of R. M. L.'s Line, but whose name was not learned.

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

A Jabot Decorates This Child's Frock

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—"Now, Dolly, let's pretend I'm a grownup lady and you're my little girl." Thus we can imagine the heroine of today's sketch addressing her companion. And under present conditions imagination is certainly sustained by favorable circumstance. It will be much easier for her from 5 to 9 to imagine that she is really grown up when she has advanced so far in her toilette as to wear such a mature thing as a jabot.

It is that tiny ripply jabot of cream colored lace which gives the simplest of little georgette frocks its endowment of adult sophistication. Otherwise you see the model is just as simple as can be. Of course, the point of the finely tucked yoke does something to identify the frock with the pointed effects of mother's bodice, but in all other respects the dress frowns upon ornamentation. The color used here is light blue and the small buttons down the front of the yoke are pearl. The fine tucks at the top of the sleeve are an attractive added touch.

More and more it is becoming the fashionable course of behavior to dress all the small daughters of one house exactly alike. In many cases the cut as well as color and materials are identical, but gradually more leniency is creeping into this attitude. Nowadays the designer feels that if the material and trimming be alike some little deference may be paid to difference of age. Of course, this is a sensible attitude, for if there be a discrepancy of perhaps six years it is hardly reasonable that the 10 year old girl should be held down to the same restrictions as her 4 year old sister.

Antoinette Tells How to Treat the Common Foot Ills

If shoes were made to fit the feet instead of feet being made to fit into shoes of uncomfortable accommodations, there wouldn't be any corns, hammertoes, or ingrowing nails.

The ordinary corn is due to undue pressure of the shoe. To treat it, bathe the affected foot in warm water to which a little bicarbonate of soda is added and use plenty of soap. Let the foot soak in water as hot as you can stand it for ten minutes. Dry and cover the corn with a pedget of cotton saturated with a mixture of five parts carbolic acid, five parts glycerin, and ten parts water. Leave this on for three minutes. Use a sterile knife to cut away the corn. Paint the area with a mixture of tincture of iodine and alcohol, equal parts, or a two per cent solution of mercurochrome. Then protect the corn area from pressure and rubbing.

Soft corns are due to toes being pressed together in such a manner that the tissues are caught between them. The soft corns are treated as the hard ones.

The mushroom type of corn is similar to a wart, in some ways. Treat it by cleaning and sterilizing the foot. Then apply a piece of felt with an opening the size of the corn to be treated. Fill this opening with a 25 per cent salicylic acid-vaseline salve. Hold in place by a gauze bandage and a bit of adhesive plaster. Leave this on for three days. Lift out the corn with a spatula or the dull edge of a sterilized case knife. Paint the corn area with 2 per cent mercurochrome. Dress with sterile gauze.

Hammertoe is caused by crowding the ball of the foot by wearing shoes that are too narrow. A toe is pushed upward until it lies across an adjacent toe. Wearing a pad of wool on top of the hammertoe sometimes helps. Adhesive strips running over the hammertoe and under the adjoining toes will lift it back into its correct place.

Ingrown nails, though credited generally to injudicious cutting of the nails, are more often caused by shoes so narrow that the toenails are forced diagonally on the toes instead of parallel with the toe bones. The nail does not grow in. It is pushed in. A longer shoe, with a broader toe and a stocking of comfortable length are necessary. Cutting the nails square and notching them in the middle is a corrective also.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

HELEN W.: PIMPLES BEGIN with the formation of blackheads. You want to get rid of the blackheads. First loosanse the face with cold cream. Have two towels ready and apply them alternately after wringing out in hot water. Remove as many of the blackheads as possible. Wipe the face with peroxide, and then rinse with cold water. Send stamped, addressed envelope for my booklet on the skin.

BY NANCY R——.

The westward migration of the McCormick clan, which started about the middle of the last century from Virginia, seems to be going on apace. We just heard that Harold McCormick has bought a beautiful place in Santa Barbara where he expects to spend a generous part of each year. He says that he is delighted with the climate, the country, the people, the life out there, and so are Stanley, and his sister Mrs. Edith McCormick, both have chosen that part of the world—the former Santa Barbara, and the latter Montecito—the family name-place is as well known there as in Lake Forest. By the bye, in reply to the various rumors circulated not long ago of irreparable rift in the Harold McCormick marital lute, the fact that many Chicago friends received Christmas cards bearing a greeting from Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick seems to indicate that all's well with them at the moment.

With the New Year's day falling on the Sabbath, and the celebration of the holiday spreading over the week, several entertainings of the week-end have been scheduled for Monday. Mrs. William S. Monroes and Miss Elizabeth Monroe, who always hold open house in their spacious apartment at 1000 East Elm street on New Year's afternoon, have sent out cards to a number of the guests for Monday instead of Sunday. Likewise John Robert Leonard and the Hibbard Sawyers are having their annual parties on Monday—their Washington, Wildacre, is always one of the popular gathering places on the afternoon.

Days' News in Society

The latest of a series of engagements recently announced is of unusual interest both in New York City and Chicago. It is that of Miss Lindon Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindon Smith of 1[illegible] street, New York City, to Robert Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hall of 1415 Astor street. Miss Smith was graduated from Westover and made her debut in Boston, and traveled with her father in the near east. She took the first color records of the tombs and reliefs at the recently discovered tomb at Gizah, Egypt. The records are now in the Egyptian department of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. She is the granddaughter of the late George Haven Putnam, who presided over the Court of St. James in 1[illegible] and was a member of the Boston Symphony. Mr. Otis was graduated from Yale in 1924 and is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Keys. The wedding, which will take place soon, after which Mr. Otis and his bride will live temporarily in the artists' colony in Santa Fe, N. M., where Mr. Otis has been residing.

The decorations for the ball which E. Porter gave last night at the Casino for Miss Louise Brewer, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Brewer, were the daintiest and crystal ballroom has sported during a procession of transformations for the past few weeks. Profusions of pink roses interspersed with silvered [illegible] and greens made a gay, springlike background for the dancers. Miss Brewer, who had been entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewer before her ball, was wearing a pale pink [illegible] robe de style embroidered with rhinestones and carried a mi[illegible] bouquet. Mrs. Brewer wore a white [illegible] de style appliqued effectively with deep black velvet flowers. [illegible] Mrs. Henry P. Isham gave a dinner at the Skyline club before the party, and Edward H. Bennett was also [illegible] the host.

Tonight will see the last of the holiday parties for the youthful [illegible]. The Princeton Triangle club's "Napoleon Passes" at the Auditorium will attract many groups of young people, and after which the debutantes and their beaux will go on to the [illegible] party. Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. [illegible] are giving at the Palmer house for their granddaughter, Miss Jane [illegible] Monroe. Dinner parties before the [illegible] show will be given by Miss Jean Ripleys for her daughter, Miss [illegible], Mrs. Francis R. Dickinson for Miss Joseph L. Valentine for Miss [illegible] and Jane Valentine, and several others. The Chicago Woman's club is in charge of the show including Mrs. B. McIlvaine Jr., as chairman, Howard Shumway, Adlai Stevenson, David R. McDougal, and Mrs. [illegible] Yule. The men in the party [illegible] to be guests at the Logan ball. Mrs. Enos M. Barton of [illegible] Woods is to give a reception [illegible] fortnightly from 4 to 7 o'clock [illegible] afternoon for her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm [illegible] Woods, who were married [illegible] in Florence, Italy.

Miss Louise Brewer, daughter of Mrs. E. Harris Brewer, while [illegible] place, is to go to Palm Beach, in February to visit her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William W. [illegible] will open their winter place [illegible], some time in January.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Pamela [illegible], daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and Stannard Clarke of South [illegible], formerly of Chicago, [illegible] Wood, son of the late [illegible] Jarvis Wood and Mrs. [illegible], took place at the Church [illegible] on Wednesday. The bride [illegible] satin and her long tulle veil [illegible] with duchess lace. She [illegible] camias and lillies of the valley. [illegible] attendants were in coral lace [illegible] of honor, Miss Elizabeth [illegible] French blue lace. The [illegible] preceded by less than a hundred [illegible] and friends, was followed by a reception at which there were [illegible] guests. John Vaughan [illegible] on from the Georgetown [illegible] Foreign Service where he is [illegible] for the diplomatic service. [illegible] usher in his sister's wedding.

The marriage of Miss [illegible] of Memphis, Tenn., [illegible] Swangar Jr. of Chicago will take place next Monday at the [illegible] in Memphis.

Days' News in Society

The latest of a series of engagements recently announced is of unusual interest both in New York City and in Chicago. It is that of Miss Frances Gordon Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lindon Smith of 132 East Sixty-fourth street, New York City, to Raymond Hilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hilton of 1415 Astor street. Miss Smith was graduated from Westover, made her debut in Boston, and traveled with her father in the near east. She made many color records of the painted tombs at the recently discovered city of Gisah, Egypt. The studies were made in the Egyptian department of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Miss Hilton is the granddaughter of Maj. Gen. Haven Putnam, was presented at the Court of St. James in 1924, and is a member of the Boston Junior League. Mr. Otis was graduated from Yale in 1924 and is a member of the Skull and Keys. The wedding probably will take place soon, after which Mr. Otis and his bride will reside temporarily in the artists' colony at Santa Fe, N. M., where Mr. Otis has an interest.

The dancing classes for the ball Henry Dexter Potter gave last night at the Blackstone for Miss Louise Brewer, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arms Brewer, were the daintiest the grand ballroom has sported during its many seasons of transformations in the last few weeks. Profusions of pink roses interspersed with silvered smilax and ground pads a gay, springlike background for the dancers. Miss Brewer, who had been entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, before her ball, was wearing a pale green satin robe de style embroidered with rhinestones and carried a mixed bouquet. Mrs. Brewer wore a white taffeta robe de style appliqued effectively with large black velvet flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Isham gave a dinner at the Skyline club before the party, and Mrs. Frank H. Bennett was also a dinner host.

Tonight will see the last of the gay dancing parties for the youth of the city. The Princeton Triangle club's "Nassau Passes" at the Auditorium will attract many groups of young people after which the debutantes and their beaux will go on to the Russian ball. Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan are giving at the Palmer house for their granddaughter, Miss Josephine Logan. Dinner parties before the theater show will be given by the Misses Ripley for their daughter, Jane, Mrs. Francis R. Dickinson and Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine for Alice May Dickinson and Jane Valentine, and by several others. The Chicago committee in charge of the show includes William R. Mellvaine Jr., as chairman; Edward Shumway, Adlai Stevenson, Joseph R. McDougal, and M. Ogden Swift. The men in the performance are to be guests at the Logan ball.

Mrs. Ross M. Barton of Hubbard Woods is to give a reception at the Casino tonight from 4 to 7 o'clock this afternoon for her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Sterling Barton, who were married last summer in Florence, Italy.

Miss Louise Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris Brewer of 1311 Astor place, is to go to Palm Beach, in February to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Waller Jr., who will open their winter place, Casa Loma, some time in January.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Pamilla Agnes Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wood and Clarke of South Pasadena, Cal., formerly of Chicago, to Brison Clarke Wood, son of the late Col. and Mrs. Jarvis Wood and Mrs. Wood of Chicago, took place at the Clarke residence on Wednesday. The bride wore white satin and her long tulle veil was held with duchess lace. She carried orchids and lillies of the valley. The attendants were in coral lace, and the maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Wood, in French blue lace. The service, followed by less than a hundred relatives and friends, was followed by a reception at which there were 250 additional guests. John Vaughn Clarke is on from the Georgetown School of Foreign Service where he is studying for the diplomatic service, to be usher in his sister's wedding.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Lee of Memphis, Tenn., to Joseph Manager Jr. of Chicago is to take place next Monday at the Peabody hotel in Memphis.

HAROLD TEEN—THE BOY TACKLES A BIG JOB

Society at the Opera

A crowded circle with extra chairs in many boxes at the opera last night accommodated the many groups of school children home for the holidays. The Charles Edward Brown box had the young daughter of the family, Betty, as hostess. Her guests were Patty McCormick, Mildred Starck, Laura Thorne, and Jean Schweppe.

Mrs. George Carter Howland was accompanied by Master Richard Howland and her guests were Mrs. John Gammie of New York, Miss Aileen Clark of Baltimore, Mrs. Edward W. Simms, and John Howland.

Mrs. George Ives Halbat had in her box Mrs. Edmund Adcock, Miss Valerie Haight, Miss Evelyn Patterson, and Miss Patricia Morse.

Mrs. Charles Ringling had the Walter Brewster box and was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Ringling, Miss Florence Sullivan, and Mrs. George B. Vilas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Eckhart in their horseshoe box were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Eckstein and Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Leight.

The Harry Livingston Kaufman box was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walch, Miss Phyllis Walch, Master John Paxton Walch, Miss Anne Elizabeth Walch, and Giovanni Cardelli.

Mr. and Mrs. William Westerlund were hosts in the box they share with Mme. Hanna Butler. The group included J. M. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Caley, and Miss M. Adele Caley.

With Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Burnham were Miss Alice Hogan, Commander S. B. McKinney and Mrs. McKinney.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Darke of 2108 Ainslie street announce the engagement of their daughter, Francine Adele Darke, to Albert Clarence Elworthy of 1226 Jarvis avenue. Miss Darke is past president of the Iota chapter of Phi Beta and was formerly on the faculty of the Bush conservatory. Mr. Elworthy is a member of the Art Crafts Guild of Chicago. The wedding will take place in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bell of Highland Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Wilhelmina Elizabeth, to Arthur W. Gosling, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Gosling of Madison, Wis. Both Miss Bell and Mr. Gosling attended the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Renick announce the engagement of their daughter, Katharine Ragsdale, to John C. Evans, son of Mrs. William Conroy Evans of Evanston.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—John Coolidge, who is spending his holiday vacation with his parents in the White House, has joined the group of young horseback riders and may be found each day on the attractive bridle paths about the city. He also attends the private dances for the young people almost each night, and last night was in his mother's party at Keith's theater.

Mrs. Dawes, wife of the Vice President, has written that she will return to Washington Wednesday and be at home at the first of the weekly cabinet receptions that afternoon.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg today issued invitations for the annual diplomatic breakfast in the Pan American Union building on Monday at 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Susette Dewey, daughter of the financial adviser to the government of Poland, who has been in Washington for several weeks as the guest of Miss Helen Robinson, daughter of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Theodore Douglas Robinson, is in New York with her hosts, who presented their younger daughter, Elizabeth, to society tonight at a dinner dance.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Of Interest to Architects.

"I have a number of architectural magazines, all the copies for the last three or four years. I am anxious to dispose of them and will be glad to give them to your readers.

"Mrs. C. B."

If you are in the market for a new home you may get an idea or two in this group of magazines. They should be of interest to our architect readers, too.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Before an Audience.

I was on my way to church on a crowded street car and I took out my train ticket, which is a monthly commutation ticket, for the conductor to punch. He would not accept the ticket. I in turn argued with him that it was for the current month and I would report him if he would not accept a punch.

People were nudging each other and giggling and laughing. Imagine my embarrassment when I discovered, only after I was threatened with being put off the car, that I was on the street car and not the train. On opening my pocketbook, I found that I did not have a cent to pay my fare with, but some kind hearted man paid it for me, while the people roared the louder.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Col. and Mrs. Charles G. Hall, with Mrs. Charles G. Hall Jr., are at the Vanderbilt from Lakewood, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance Storrs gave a dance this evening in the Crystal room of the Ritz Carlton for their daughter, Miss Anne Storrs.

Roderick Tower and his son, Whitney Tower, who is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, arrived at the Plaza yesterday and will depart Friday for California.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The pattern, 3214, comes in sizes 14 and 16 years, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 40 inch material.

Wise Gals Hand 'Emselves Neither Lemons Nor Roses

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A story comes to me of a young woman given to fictionizing romances. She supplies a great amount of amusement to her friends with the power of her imagination. It's a good talent that ought really to be conserved for fiction tales, at so much per story, but not one that meets with the approval of those asked to accept the tales for truth.

The young woman, still in her 'teens, has been weaving her latest about a popular young football hero. She knew the boy, all right. He had danced with her at several functions. But when the story got back to him of the affairs he was taking her to—purely imaginative ones—she lost a dancing partner in him and others in several of his friends who were in on the story.

It may be a rather unusual mental process in this day of frankness, but the girl has a prototype in those young women who report telephone calls that were not received and other little attentions that were hoped would come true, but didn't. So long as names are left out I suppose there is no harm in this kind of romancing, but let the young man whose name is mentioned hear of them and it is all off with the girl in future. It is just not good billiards, that's all.

Another phase of this peculiar makeup is the girl who tells deprecating things about herself in the hope of creating an interest by hook or crook. The psychologists would have a handy explanation of this type of person, undoubtedly. But for our purposes it is sufficient to say that you are taken at your own estimate, so it is well to keep your reputation at as high a mark as you can.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Wants Gift Back.

"Dear Miss Blake: I went with a fellow one year. He gave me a valuable present. We had a quarrel and I left him. When I wished to return his gift he refused it.

"After he thought I went with another fellow he asked for it. Do you think it was right? "Rosa."

Having refused its return in the first place he should not have asked for it later. Apparently he figured your difference would soon be adjusted and he'd naturally want you to have it.

BOXING BRINGS $338,000 TO ILLINOIS IN '27

Attendance 507,940 for Year.

Boxing and wrestling matches and exhibitions in Illinois for the fiscal year ended Dec. 1 drew an attendance of 507,940 and gave to the state in taxes $338,836.59.

These figures were made public last night in a financial report of the Illinois Athletic commission. The report was made by Paul Prehn, acting chairman of the commission which has complete control of boxing and wrestling in the state.

PAUL PREHN.

After the commission—which now consists of Mr. Prehn, Samuel Luzzo and John Righeimer, a former chairman who recently resigned his post but has not been relieved of his duties—had paid all of its expenses a profit of $306,994.75 remained to the state.

Tunney Fight Swells Receipts.

The tax receipts from boxing and wrestling last year were far in excess of those of 1926. This was due to the Tunney-Dempsey battle which brought $249,189.16 into the commission treasury. That sum represented 15 per cent of the total gate receipts after the federal tax had been taken out.

Mr. Prehn's report shows that the sport has of the state evinced the most interest in boxing and wrestling during the month of August and showed the most, of course, in the month of September which was featured by the heavyweight championship battle held on Soldiers' field.

Among other interesting items in the commission's report is the announcement that $195,300.82 was collected by the czars of the ring and the sports in forfeits and paid out to them.

12 Boxers Suspended.

During the year the commission exercised its arbitrary powers to punish offenders of its rules by suspending 92 individuals and clubs. It also revoked the license of one boxer.

The number of boxing and wrestling matches held during the year showed a healthy increase over the number held in the preceding year. The total number of matches and exhibitions reached 1,610.

Boxing, legalized by a referendum vote three years ago this spring, apparently has obtained a hold on the sport fans of the state.

WILDCAT FIVE STAGES UPHILL FIGHT TO WIN

College Scores

Northwestern, 25; Notre Dame, 23.
Chicago, 30; De Pauw, 26.
Yale, 32; New York U., 30 [overtime].
Minnesota, 38; Marquette, 22.
Illinois, 33; Washington, 24.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

The score was Northwestern, 25; Notre Dame, 23. The score itself tells the story of what will be written into the records as the outstanding basketball thriller played at Patten gymnasium.

WALDO FISHER.

The Wildcats cynically dubbed "front runners" after their last two games, won their spurs as a game team. Twice they came from behind in magnificent charges after Notre Dame had piled up a lead, the last time to snap the Ramblers string of nine consecutive victories over the Purple on a basketball court. They won by outfighting a fighting team. A crowd of 8,500 saw the struggle.

Some games have a definite "break" when the tide of victory changes, but there was little of that last night. Every play was a break, while the last ten minutes was the fastest, most furious basketball played on a Northwestern court in years, though not a single point was counted in the last eight minutes of the game.

Fisher Ousted on Fouls.

From the time the game began Notre Dame seemed to be getting the edge in hairline decisions and the Wildcats grew peevish at decisions they thought were unjust. It was true that fouls were called when they were indiscernible from the stands and many flying blocks which sent an opponent spinning to the floor were ignored.

The climax came half way through the second half, after Northwestern had cut away a seven point Notre Dame lead, taking the lead themselves and lost it again. Then Capt. Waldo Fisher was sent out on four personal fouls, none of them vicious, and for the first time in his college career he left the floor with sulphurous words on his lips.

His team mate of eight years, Bobby Rusch, took his place while Donovan sank the free throw. But that foul cost Notre Dame the ball game, for it wasn't five college lads that started to play basketball at the next tip off; it was five two-legged wildcats. Irked by those borderline decisions, the banishment of Fisher sent them into a fury and from that moment Notre Dame scored not another point until Donovan dropped in another free toss after the gun ending the game had been fired.

Wildcats Outfight Foes.

For those ten minutes there was a Wildcat on every Rambler's neck and every man did marvels of diving for the ball and spoiling shots at the basket.

Four times Northwestern had a lead, but never by more than three points, while the Ramblers once led by seven points and again by two. Gleichmann scored first on the rebound of a long try by Fisher, and Crowe, Notre Dame's brilliant midget forward tied it with a long shot. Walters dropped a foul but Crowe caged an under the basket try to give Notre Dame a one point lead. Through the rest of the first half Northwestern seemed a beaten team. Crowe was snaking behind Marshall for shots and at times out the Purple guard stood with his head bowed in dejection. The Ramblers held the ball most of the time, and ran up a lead, 17 to 16. Then the Purple began their first drive. Walters caged a shot on a pass from Marshall and Marshall dropped one on a quick return from Gleichmann before the half ended, leaving the score, 17 to 14.

Wildcats Tie Count.

At the start of the second half Johnson caged a long shot and added a free throw, tieing the score at 17 all. Walters added a long shot to give the Purple a two point lead. Donovan, the same sub who ruined Northwestern at South Bend, connected with a long shot, tieing the score, and Smith dribbled through a wide opening in the Purple's zone defense and scored from under the basket. Fisher dropped in a free throw. Then, with the score 21 to 20 with Notre Dame leading, came Fisher's fourth foul and Northwestern's fighting tribute to its leader.

Donovan sank the foul shot, but it was the Ramblers' last point in the regular playing time. Instead of "folding up" when they lost the lead in the last few minutes, the Wildcats went mad. Within two minutes Walters had caged a one-handed shot and Marshall a follow up on a try by Gleichmann. The score was 25 to 22 and so it stayed.

Carnegie Report on Grid Sport Elicits 3 Big Yawns

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 29.—[Special.]—The National Collegiate Athletic association held its annual meeting today at the Hotel Astor. Dr. Howard Savage of the Carnegie Foundation made a preliminary report about the foundation's investigation of intercollegiate football. When he had finished, the chair proposed three rousing yawns and a regular N. C. A. A. snore for the doctor. The entire attendance stretched as one man and gave them with a will.

In the course of the report the doctor told them how many colleges he and his assistants visited, how many coaches they interviewed, and how many cracks there are in a mile of sidewalk. It was not what you would call a sensational report, and nothing was said about the consumption or mean average quality of gin at the typical midwestern home-coming day game.

No Muck-Raking.

The only stir that occurred during the delivery of the report took place when the doctor assured all present that the foundation does not intend to do any muck-raking. When he said this there came a unanimous sigh of relief that blew the red plush curtains straight out through the windows. Several toupees were lost.

The N. C. A. A. decided to be magnanimous toward the Amateur Athletic union, with which it quarreled last year about some political matter concerning control of the American Olympic team, and rejoin the Olympic association, from which it had withdrawn in protest against the A. A. U.'s domination. It was a case of being generous in defeat, because the A. A. U., having greatly superior politicians, is in a position to run the Olympic team as usual, anyway.

Nobody present could quite recall what the N. C. A. A. was sore about in the first place, except in a general way. In a general way, then, the N. C. A. A. thought it wasn't right for the A. A. U. to run in a lot of its minor components, such as the New England Hopscotch association, the Middle Atlantic Face-Tag association, and the Northwestern Amateur Duck-on-a-Rock association, as equals of the N. C. A. A., which holds a rather loose official embrace around all the college athletes of the country.

Difference in Politicians.

For that matter, it probably wasn't right, but, as hitherto stated, the A. A. U.'s politicians are very smart, so the N. C. A. A. is now back in the Olympic organization no stronger than it was before.

Dr. Edgar Tanver of Wesleyan college read a committee report about baseball in the colleges. They didn't state which Wesleyan college he represents, and this was confusing, because there are as many Wesleyans as there are Loyolas, although both may resent being coupled in the comparison.

Dr. Tanver called attention to a very serious inconsistency in the rules, wherein it is provided that various offenses by ball players shall merit fine and suspension of the offender. It appears that the baseball rules are written by the proprietors of the professional baseball firms to govern professional players. Nobody ever noticed this anomaly, which is a scientific word meaning a bell of a note, until some amateur missed a hit and run signal and the coach, looking up his prerogatives, fined him $5.

Sent to Prison.

The player had the coach indicted for grand larceny and the district attorney then discovered three other previous cases, so the coach was convicted on each count and sentenced to life in the Michigan state prison as a fourth offender and habitual criminal.

After hearing the doctor's report, the meeting instructed the committee to continue its investigation for another year, it being understood that at the end of that time it will be allowed to investigate something else.

The football rules committee was reorganized, but not in full compliance with the desires of the football coaches' union, which feels that it ought to be officially represented. There are several coaches on the committee, but they are not there as representatives of the coaches' union. This is a very serious thing and somebody may resign from something any moment.

Members of Committee.

The new committee consists of E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, chairman, as usual; W. S. Langford, and eight division representatives as follows:

Tad Jones, Will Roper, H. J. Stegeman, of Georgia; A. A. Stagg, M. F. Ahearn, Kansas State; D. X. Bible, Texas Aggies; Harry W. Hughes, Colorado Aggies, and George Varnell, Seattle.

Dr. Babbit of Haverford and Dr. H. W. Savage of Oberlin, former members of the rules committee, were relieved. The late Fred Moore of Harvard, of the retiring committee, died during the year.

The coaches' union will meet tomorrow afternoon and in the evening there will be a dinner as a last minute attempt to justify all the bother and travel.

Canzoneri and Taylor Meet in N. Y. Tonight

New York, Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., will invade Tony Canzoneri's own ballywick tomorrow night when the National Boxing association's bantamweight champion meets the industrious Williamsburg battler at Madison Square Garden in the feature ten round bout.

IGNACIO FERNANDEZ.

On two previous occasions this pair have met in the middle west. One time the verdict was a draw and the next time Taylor was the victor by a shade. This renewal of the feud has stirred up considerable interest, and indications point to a big crowd.

No title will be involved because the pair will be above weight. Taylor will scale between 121 and 122 pounds, while Canzonerri will be around 125. The battle is an important one for both boxers. If Canzoneri should win he is practically assured of a bout with Benny Bass for what will be regarded as the featherweight championship.

BRUINS UPSET ROCHESTER PRO CAGERS, 23 TO 22

Wickhorst Scores in Last Minute.

Staging a brilliant rally in the final 11 minutes of the pro basketball game at the Broadway armory last night, the Chicago Bruins nosed out the Rochester team in the first of a two game series, 23 to 22. Mike Wickhorst, speedy forward, shot the winning basket with forty seconds remaining to play.

Honey Russell and Wickhorst teamed together to gather all the Bruins' points except a free throw negotiated by Sullivan, and in the final minutes the north side team displayed as brilliant attack as seen on the local floor this season.

Rochester took an early lead and led at half time, 15 to 11, increasing this advantage to 21 to 12 before the Bruin avalanche started. Grimstead, new Bruin center, while not scoring, played well, directing the floor play and acting as a passing pivot for his mates. Rabin and Topel led the Rochester offense, which seemed well on its way to another victory until the Bruins pulled the game out of the fire. Lineup:

WISCONSIN VIES FOR FIRST PLACE IN WINTER SPORTS

Lake Placid, N. Y., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Wisconsin and New Hampshire are leading the field and are only one point apart tonight at the close of the second of eight events counting toward award of the President Harding winter sports trophy, now in competition at the Lake Placed club.

In the seven mile cross country ski race, held this morning, R. W. Thompson of McGill finished first in 51 minutes, and so scored 5 points. Second place and 3 points were won by Knut Dahl of Wisconsin.

Helen Louise Taylor of Bryn Mawr, with a total of 18 points, won the Mackay trophy for college women's winter sports. Cynthia Kohlsaat of Chicago and Vassar was second with 12 points, Catherine McGuire of Marymount third with 9, and Suzanne Kohlsaat of Vassar fourth with 4.

TRECET, THE HIGH HAT OF JAI ALAI, TRIUMPHS AGAIN

Joaquin Cops in Singles and Doubles.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Señor Trecet, the high hat jai-alai technician, last night again showed his resentment at published implications that during his first week in Chicago he was "a Spanish onion looking for a spot before really doing his stuff." The señor and his partner, young Maggie Maguregui, stepped out in the feature game of the evening and beat Cannonball Uranga and Ulacia, 15 to 11, the encouragers thereby getting $4.10.

Joaquin Pays $7.80.

Cannonball had been a 2 to 5 favorite in the "morning line" and played with great determination in the opening innings and with desperation in the closing rounds. It was this desperate phase that caused his downfall, for twice he made terrific placement drives, the power of which carried the pelota out of bounds.

After the feature act had been put on both Trecet and Uranga went into complete eclipse, the cause being Joaquin Urrestarazu of Motrico, Spain, whose stage name is simply Joaquin, the Joaq being pronounced as the Wauk in Waukegan. Joaquin paid $7.80 when he copped the fifth game, an elimination single, and in the sixth he came back with Teodoro to absolutely dazzle the players and the fans alike. The team went out with eight points when all the other pairs except one were nursing ominous zeroes. Uranga and Trecet were among those blanked. And again the encouragers were encouraged, for Joaquin & Co. paid $8.30.

Uranga Wins Final.

Just to save the night for his following Uranga put on the clamps in the final and with his partner, Uria, romped away before half of the field was perceptible on the scoreboard. Because of his earlier reverses Uranga paid $10.60. Summaries:

Capt. Irvin, Injured Hawk Star, Will Be Out 3 Weeks

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Capt. Dick Irvin, star forward of the Blackhawks, who suffered a fractured skull during the Chicago-Montreal hockey match at the Coliseum last Wednesday night, will be out of play for at least three weeks. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. L. L. McArthur, a specialist called in by the Hawks' bosses to examine Irvin at St. Luke's hospital.

CECIL BROWNE.

Dr. McArthur took several X-rays of Irvin's head and the plates showed a fracture just below Dick's left ear. He will be kept in the hospital for at least ten days and then probably will be permitted to go home until he is fit to play again.

Browne Out for Two Weeks.

Irvin was injured in the second period of the match. Dick crashed with Red Dutton of the Maroons and Dutton spilled the Hawk ace to the ice and they slid into the side boards. None of the Chicago or Montreal players could determine yesterday whether Irvin suffered the fracture from the collision with the ice or when he crashed into the wall.

On the heels of the announcement concerning Irvin's injury, Manager Barney Stanley revealed that Cecil Browne, the forward purchased last fall from the Winnipeg club, also will be off the ice for two weeks. Browne has been playing great hockey for the Hawks, but has been complaining of pains in his back for the last two weeks. Yesterday he was examined by a physician who declared that the nervous system in his spine had been disarranged and that it would require some time to correct this ailment and said it was necessary for Browne to rest.

Chuck Gardiner, the Hawks' goalie, also was battered in the Montreal fracas. Chuck was cut over his right eye and four stitches were necessary to close the wound. Dutton of the Maroons also was hit in the mouth with the puck and it required six stitches to close his wounds. The Montreal team entrained for home yesterday.

Babe Dye on Crutches.

With Irvin and Browne out of the lineup the Hawks will be in dire straits for players when they line up against the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Coliseum on Monday night. Babe Dye, the brilliant forward who suffered a broken leg in pre-season practice, is still on the hospital list and now that Irvin and Browne are on the shelf the scoring power of the team is all but broken.

Dye is at home in Toronto trying to get his injured limb in condition. The cast has been taken off the legand Babe is hobbling around on crutches, but it will be at least a month before he will be able to pull on his skates.

Hockey Scores

In the WAKE of the NEWS

ARMY-NAVY ELIGIBILITY.

THE WAKE yesterday heard Navy's side of the pending football eligibility controversy with Army at lunch in the studio atop the Burnham building with directors of the United States Naval Academy association of Chicago, Messrs. E. J. Johnson, '07, president; D. H. Skeen, '10; Hubert Burnham, '04; J. A. Byers, '12, and Admiral Frederic B. Bassett '89.

ADMIRAL F. B. BASSETT.

"First, let me say that in conformance with collegiate practice, Navy adopted the three-year eligibility rule on Aug. 13, 1923, and has conformed to this rule since that time. We of Navy sympathies wish to feel that if our athletic teams defeat collegiate athletic teams it is a real victory and not achieved because we used players who would not have been eligible if they had been enrolled in our rivals' camp. Therefore, until this year when Army adopted the freshman rule—but not the three year rule—we in reality played three classes against four for West Point.

"We can deal with collegiate rivals by adopting their eligibility rules, but the controversy with Army involves more important points.

"Take Army's argument that difference in entering ages, 16 to 20 for Navy and 17 to 22 for Army, is offset by the authorized enlistment of 2,205 for Annapolis and 1,332 for West Point. On Dec. 16, 1927, there were enrolled 1,534 cadets at Annapolis and 1,241 at West Point.

"It is a well known fact that a boy has little chance of making a varsity football team under 18 years old because of lack of development. Taking the number of students over 18 years in either institution, it is believed West Point will have as many or more of that age than we have at Annapolis, and will certainly have a greater number of much more mature age.

"Army states the average age difference of the respective student bodies is seven months older at West Point. In football the average age of starting lineups in last fall's service game was: Army, 23 years 2 months; Navy, 21 years 3 months, an actual difference of nearly two years, which at that growing age is most important.

"In the matter of combined football experience at college or service academies, Army starting lineup averaged 4 5-11 years' major football experience; Navy's 2 1-11 years' experience.

"Army cites that since 1890 Army in football has won 15 games, tied 3 and lost 9 indicating supposed equality. But Navy has not beaten Army since 1921. Here is one reason why: In the period from 1920 Army had on its football eleven men ineligible under the 3-year rule enforced at Navy and most colleges as follows: 1920, 6; 1921, 7; 1922, 7; 1923, 7; 1924, 8; 1925, 9; 1926, 8, and 1927, 8.

"In other words, eight of Army's eleven starters against Navy last fall would not have been eligible to play at Navy or any leading American college because of previous football experience. It is also of interest to note that of nine ex-college players on Army's 1927 team, not one at the time of his entrance to West Point was eligible by age limitation for appointment to Annapolis.

"Apart from all questions of meeting college rivals on a uniform basis, these facts prove, we think, that our contests with Army at present are not on an equality. The fact that we have not an even sporting chance in using younger, less experienced men against older and more experienced opponents violates, in our opinion, that spirit of fair play which should prevail in all contests between the two great service schools."

Truly Disappointing.

Harvey: Let me nominate for the meanest man in the world the college football coach who will lose a long string of games and with all the "loyal" alumni "hopped up" for a big rail riding party turns around and ends up the season with two smashing victories like a rainy night at Nero's party.

Do You Remember Way Back When:

President Grover Cleveland raised a storm of protest when he returned some of the civil war flags captured from the south and every editor of a Republican paper north of the Mason-Dixon line threw at least one fit about it (and President Coolidge did the same thing recently without a word of criticism)?—L. MAROONS BEAT DE PAUW, 30-26; CHANGNON STARS

Hoosiers in Lead Until Second Half.

With the Maroons trailing 12 to 4 against De Pauw at one stage of the first half and looking about as hopeless as it is possible for a cage squad to look, Coach Nels Norgren of the Midway squad, sent his much talked of sophomore star, Harry Changnon of Donovan, Ill., to drag the contest out of the fire for Chicago, 30 to 26, at Bartlett gymnasium last night.

Changnon's advent changed the entire complexion of the game. Chicago stopped its futile long shot tossing, shifted its style of attack to a short shot game which baffled the De Pauw guards, and sent the Maroons into the lead in the midle of the second half, which they successfully held to the end.

Changnon Turns Tide.

However, Changnon and his mates, probably would have had a much harder proposition had not Messersmith, star guard of the Hoosiers team, been removed from the game after five minutes of play in the first half after accummulating four personal fouls. De Pauw was leading 12 to 4 at the time and had tallied eight points before the Maroons broke their zero on the score board.

While Mounts, gangling redhead center of the visitors played excellent ball and was well supported by Lovelace, the pivot of De Pauw's attack was gone and at no subsequent time did the team again disclose the same smooth passing.

The Maroons' short passing game was successful in the second half. Changnon dropped four short ones through the hoop, while Gist's luck broke against him on a number of attempts.

De Pauw Leads at Half.

After trailing 15 to 11 at half time Chicago took the lead, 18 to 17, four minutes later, chiefly on Changnon's work. The Maroons maintained that advantage except for a brief time when Mounts tallied and made one free throw on the foul called as he made the basket. This De Pauw lead of 22 to 20 was wiped out when McDonough dribbled the length of the floor and then Hoeger and Changnon clinched the combat by under the basket shots in the final minutes.

The game was a poor exhibition of basketball, Chicago's passing being erratic and De Pauw's defense always leaving one opponent open for short shots since Back Guard Bryan planted himself under the Maroon basket and made no attempt to cover any Maroon player. He seemed more or less scared all during the game and his playing was sufficient to demoralize any basketball team because of his lack of judgment and inability to pass. Lineup:

ILLINOIS WINS, 33-24

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—The University of Illinois basketball team turned the tables on the University of Washington quintet here tonight, winning the second game of the series, 33 to 24. The Illini were defeated in the opening game Tuesday night in the three game series which dedicates the new $600,000 field house of Washington. The final and deciding game will be played tomorrow night.

Illinois won tonight through a superiority in all departments of the game. Although Washington ran up an early lead of 8 to 1, the Illini came back with a rush to lead at half time, 16 to 9, which advantage they held throughout the remainder of the game.

MINNESOTA WINS, 38-22

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 29.—[U. P.]—The Minnesota basketball team brought its practice season to a close here tonight with a 38 to 22 victory over Marquette of Milwaukee. The score at half time was 16 to 10 in favor of the Gophers.

ELEVEN FOUR ROUND BOUTS ON TONIGHT'S CARD

Tate Fights Harris in Heavyweight Feature.

The Card

Les Marriner vs. Mickey Smith, heavyweights.
Oscar Battiste vs. Art Mahy, heavyweights.
Tim O'Keefe vs. K. O. White, heavyweights.
Patsy Pollock vs. Dan Maxwell, 152 pounds.
Jack Silver vs. Jimmy Deering, 145 pounds.
Morrie Gransberg vs. Johnny Hopfinger, 138 pounds.
Al Meyers vs. Willie Brown, 130 pounds.
Ernie Peters vs. Kid Jap, 116 pounds.
Blas Rodriguez vs. Davey Adelman, 116 pounds.
Genaro Pino vs. Sonny Lloyd, 116 pounds.

Action galore is on tap for local boxing fans at the Coliseum tonight. Eleven four round bouts are on the card. The show is being promoted by Joe Coffey.

LES MARRINER.

Bouts in the heavyweight class and the flyweight division will be the features. The fact that each battle is booked for four rounds means that the fighters will have to battle every second they are in the ring.

Because each of the battles booked are over the same distance Coffey is going to have the boxers draw for their positions on the card.

One of the battles of importance to south side fans is between Bill Tate, the veteran colored heavyweight and conqueror of Harry Wills, and Seal Harris, the youngster who is Jack Johnson's protégé. Les Marriner, the University of Illinois football star, is making a bid for a chance at the heavyweight championship in his pro debut. Marriner meets Mickey Smith.

Malloy Completes Show.

Promoter Mique Malloy has completed his card for Monday afternoon to be staged at the White City arena. A glance over the bouts shows that it means civil war for the fans as there are boxers from every neighborhood.

Paul Allen, Englewood battler, who recently beat Battling Morris and fought a great draw with Joe Medill, will meet Henry Lenard of South Chicago. The bout is for eight rounds at 180 pounds.

Ralph Mendoza, the fighting Mexican, will clash with Joe Chaney, who now makes his home on the west side. Chaney is a brother of George Chaney, the knockout king of Baltimore. Mendoza and Chaney will box eight rounds at 135 pounds. Jack McCarthy of Bridgeport will meet Billy Showers, formerly of St. Paul, But now of Chicago.

Fighters Who Fight.

TILDEN SPURTS IN LAST PERIOD TO WIN, 32 TO 21

Pontiac, Ill., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Tilden Tech of Chicago and University High of Normal fought a neck and neck battle here this afternoon until the last quarter, when Tilden scored five successive baskets to win, 32 to 21, in the Pontiac invitational basketball tourney. Peterson, Sullivan, and Rittmeyer starred for Tilden, while Darling and Shaffer were the outstanding players of U. High. Lineup:

TILDEN [32]	B	F	P	U. HIGH [21]	B	F	P
Sullivan,rf	4	0	1	Tauman,rf	1	1	1

Clinton, 33; Villa Grove, 17.
Urbana, 35; Pontiac, 6.
Cornell, 34; Austin, 25.
Pekin, 19; Evanston, 10.

CRANE TECH LOSES.

Streator, Ill., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—Crane Tech of Chicago was eliminated from the Streator invitational basketball tournament this afternoon, losing to Froebel High of Gary, Ind., 19 to 18. It was a nip and tuck game from the outset. Peoria Manual swamped Wheaton in another afternoon encounter.

OGDEN SKI CLUB DEDICATES 590 FT. SLIDE JAN. 22

A ski slide with a drop of 590 feet from the starting platform to the bottom of the landing slope, built by the Ogden Dunes Ski club, will be used for the first time in the club's annual meet on Jan. 22. The slide, said to be the highest in the world, is near Miller, Ind.

A steel tower rises 115 feet from the top of a dome shaped hill and the speedy drop is expected to add 25 per cent to the length of jumps. In consequence most of the star ski riders in all parts of the United States and Canada are expected to enter and attempt to shatter records.

Seventy minute train service will be provided by the South Shore electric on the day of the tournament.

AMATEUR BOXING NOTICE.

On Jan. 7, there will be an amateur boxing show at the Chicago Athletic association. All boys who wish to compete in these matches will report to J. R. Gleason, 217 W. Huron street, on Saturday, Dec. 31, from 12 to 2 p. m.

MOON MULLINS—THE GAY DECEIVER

SMITTY—THE SECRET

Warner Has 38 Players Ready for Pitt Game

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 29.—Interest in the Pittsburgh-Stanford varsity football game, which will be played in the Rose bowl Monday afternoon, is running high on the coast. Rival supporters of the two teams are congregating and the Stanford squad is due to arrive here tomorrow from Palo Alto. Thirty-eight players will make up the Cardinals' squad.

Arrival of the red shirts on the battleground will stimulate interest in a game which will attract the largest crowd in the history of this east versus west series.

Pop Brings Large Squad.

The Stanford coach, who will make a third effort to win one of these tornament of roses games, will bring every player who has shown possibilities during the year.

The squad will arrive tomorrow morning and present plans call for long practice sessions in the Rose bowl in the afternoon. A final workout will be held at the same place Saturday. Coach Warner has done everything possible to put his strongest Stanford eleven on the field. He refused the players permission to go to their homes for Christmas. Pop gave them a vacation last year and the team failed to display the aggressiveness expected in the game with Alabama, which resulted in a 7 to 7 tie.

Pittsburgh, which is coming west by easy stages, will arrive on Saturday morning. Coach Sutherland has made several stops enroute for practice drills and the squad is expected to land here in excellent physical condition.

The Panthers will engage in their final workout in the Rose bowl some time on Saturday. According to Lea Henry, chairman of the football committee of the tournament of roses, a capacity crowd of 70,000 will witness the intersectional struggle between these highly representative elevens of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards.

PENN FAVORED TO WIN

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Trained to the minute, Pennsylvania and California let down sharply today in practice, going through light signal drills for the game Saturday which will mark renewal of football relations between the two big universities after an absence of three years.

On Jan. 1, 1925, the Pennsylvania Quakers came west to suffer a 14 to 0 trouncing by the California Bears. This year Coach Lou Young has a team that was a threat on eastern gridirons—Pennsylvania supporters already are counting on a victory over California, whose regular season was not impressive.

Stockholm and Grenda Paired for 6 Day Race

Carl Stockholm, looked upon as Chicago's leading six day bicycle rider, will be teamed with Alfred Grenda, the lanky Tasmanian, in Chicago's nineteenth international six day bicycle race, which starts at the Coliseum a week from Sunday night. Grenda has been riding brilliantly on the outdoor tracks in the east for the last two years, but has passed up the six day races. He is confident he will make a successful "come-back" in this race.

Grenda has won five six day races, finished second four times, been third twice and fourth three times. He always was a favorite in Chicago, and the fans will welcome him back to the fold.

Stockholm, an alumnus of Northwestern university, is one of the grittiest six day riders in the game. He has won two races, both in Chicago, one with Ernest Kockler and the other with Franco Georgetti. He has finished second twice, third twice, fourth four times, and fifth five times.

Stockholm is out on the roads training every day, along with Ernest [Hy] Kockler and Eddie Merkner, who will ride as a team in this race. They ride from thirty to forty miles every day.

FENGER CAGERS WHIP MEDILL HEAVIES, 45-30

Fenger took a free scoring game from Medill heavies in a high school practice contest at the Fenger floor yesterday, winning, 45 to 30. Max led Fenger with eight baskets and two free throws. In the lightweight encounter, Medill finished on top, 41 to 18. It was Fenger's ninth straight heavyweight victory. Heavyweight lineup:

Illinois Race Tracks Retain Old Policies

BY FRENCH LANE.

There will be no change in the policies of Illinois race tracks nor in their managements as a result of the proposed dissolution of the Kentucky Jockey club, according to Stuyvesant Peabody, president of the Illinois Turf association and also president of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club.

STUYVESANT PEABODY

"There will be some changes in Kentucky," he said. "But the only way it can effect us will be the pooling of the interests held by the Kentucky Jockey club in Illinois tracks with its interests in the two big Kentucky tracks, Churchill Downs and Latonia. It in no way will affect the large amount of stock owned by Chicago people.

Tracks Operate Separately.

"Each track here as well as those in Kentucky will be under separate managements, and each will dictate its own racing policies. The rich resources of the holding company, including the pooled interests of the Kentucky Jockey club, of course, will be available to us if we need it for improvements or to stage big stakes."

To Mr. Peabody the enthusiasm Illinois farm owners are showing over the breeding of thoroughbred horses was of considerable more importance than the activities of the Kentucky Jockey club.

Breeding Farms Enlarged.

"Throughout the northern half of the state farms that will be used for thoroughbred breeding purposes are springing up," he said. "There have been numerous thoroughbred breeding farms in central and southern Illinois for a number of years. These farms are adding to their stock."

Mr. Peabody attributed most of the increased downstate interest in the thoroughbred horse to the success of the Illinois bred filly, Anita Peabody, in the $100,000 Belmont Futurity.

John C. Schank, president of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, which controls Hawthorne, declared that the Cicero track would in no way be affected by the merger in Kentucky. "The Kentucky Jockey club does not own a share of stock in our track," Schank said.

Merganser Gets Its Fish! Hunts on Lake Michigan

BY BOB BECKER.

Although the sport of fishing in Lake Michigan is not a pastime at this time of the year, a few days ago we saw a hardy bunch of "anglers" on the job. It was a flock of mergansers or fish ducks diving for minnows a short distance from the shore. Every winter we have these feathered fishermen on the big lake, and many a chilled perch and herring is exterminated by the mergansers. Their appetites are always keen and their fishing prowess of the highest order.

* *

We were hiking along the north shore when we spotted the fish ducks. The lake was quiet with hardly a riffle on the surface, and the birds had come in close to the shore for their operations. Murph, our Springer spaniel, was with us, and when the fish eaters started to fly he couldn't understand why we didn't shoot.

* *

Both the red breasted and American mergansers are skilled divers. Add a gluttonous appetite to this accomplishment and you can see how easy it is for them to stow away thousands of fish in the course of a year. Nature has given these birds a saw-like bill (hence the name sawbill) for holding slippery fish, and a rough tongue covered with in-curved projections as a further aid in handling wriggling fish. Once they get that saw bill on a perch, herring, chub or other species of fish it's goodby, poor fish.

Indianapolis Ball Club Purchases New Site

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Indianapolis club of the American association announced today it had closed negotiations for the purchase of a site on 38th street, directly across from the state fair grounds, for a new park. Construction work will begin immediately.

Clutter Beats Angry Moods in Close Race

New Orleans, La., Dec. 29.—[Special.]—In a finish so close that it required the official placing to decide the outcome, Clutter, the 2 year old which races in Robert S. Clark's colors, was the winner of the best race on the Jefferson Park program today.

Angry Moods, on which there had been a plunge, raced Fire Fairy into defeat half way down the stretch and appeared a certain winner until Clutter staged a belated rally. Clutter got up in the final strides to beat Angry Moods by the shortest kind of a nose. Bill Seth was two lengths back of the leading pair in third place. Clutter was a long shot at $20 in the mutuels. The race was at 6 furlongs.

The track again was muddy and only the cheapest horses paraded to the post. The noted mud runner, Aregal, with Tommy Root in the saddle, easily bested his field in the mile and an eighth fifth race. He got the decision after beating off Blue Torch's challenge in the stretch. Sir Leonid was third.

Aregal was backed with confidence and was an even money choice.

CARLSON BURIES DEVITO WITH PIN AVERAGE OF 232

Rolling the most sensational game in Chicago this season, Adolph Carlson beat Dominick Devito in six out of seven games in the Chicago All-star Individual Bowling league play on the Randolph alleys yesterday. Five of the games Carlson averaged 238 6-7 pins. He was below 200 only once, when he suffered defeat, 222 to 181, in the second game.

Carlson started his remarkable score by taking Devito into camp, 231 to 214. After his one reverse in the second game he turned in a 244 to Devito's 196. He began with four strikes, got a spare in the fifth frame, then followed with two strikes. He got a railroad in the eighth, then went out with four strikes.

Carlson's high count of the series came in the fourth game, when his score reached the high total of 264. He started with a spare, got five strikes in a row, followed this brilliant showing with a spare, and went out with four strikes.

The sixth and seventh games were thrillers. Devito was leading in the ninth frame of the sixth, 246 to 236. But the best he could get was a strike and a spare, while Carlson again went out on strikes. Carlson's greatest rally came in the seventh. Devito had him whipped, 225 to 207, in the ninth. Dominick got a railroad in the tenth, while Carlson went out on strikes and won, 237 to 234. The scores follow:

BROKERS' LOANS AGAIN MOVE UP TO RECORD PEAK

BY O. A. MATHER.

This year ends with Americans speculating in securities to a greater extent than ever before and with the average of securities prices around the highest level in stock market history.

The degree to which speculation has expanded and the amount of credit it is requiring is evidenced in the weekly report on loans to brokers and dealers by the New York federal reserve member banks. Such loans expanded sharply again in the last week. The total on Wednesday was $3,717,622,000, a new peak, and an increase of $73,291,000 over a week ago. It also marks an increase of $329,861,000 over a year ago. A week ago all the member banks of the federal reserve system were lending $5,621,811,000 on stocks and bonds, while their commercial loans totaled $5,725,149,000.

Credit Demand Increases.

Increased demands for credit in connection with year-end requirements also are shown by the weekly report of the federal reserve system. In the last week loans and open market bills purchased increased $31,053,000 and $19,755,000, respectively. Government securities expanded $15,174,000. Deposits increased $39,273,000. Note circulation declined $8,134,000. Gold reserves declined $3,233,000, but total reserves increased $4,654,000. The ratio of reserves to liabilities fell to 66.3 from 67.2 per cent a week ago.

At New York loans expanded $70,693,000, open market bills $19,035,000, and deposits $23,592,000. Reserves declined $61,834,000, and the reserve ratio fell to 64.4 from 71.3 per cent last week. At Chicago loans declined $6,684,000, open market bills $2,094,000, and deposits $4,437,000. Reserves increased $22,323,000, and the reserve ratio rose to 70.3 from 68.8 per cent.

$10,000,000 Gold to France.

The sharp decline in the New York bank's reserves coincided with announcement of a shipment of $10,000,000 of gold to France and reduction of the rediscount rate of the Bank of France from 5 to 4 per cent. This action was interpreted by American financers as foreshadowing early action by the French government in stabilizing the franc and returning to a gold standard basis.

Such action by the French would result in a continued flow of gold from this country, as the bank of France has accumulated large gold deposits in this country. Revaluation of French currency had not been expected until after the general elections in May but Italy's action in stabilizing its currency has stimulated a demand for earlier action in France. Such action now is expected next month.

First Cut in Automobiles.

The first important announcement of automobile price reductions since the appearance of the new Ford car came yesterday from the Willys-Overland company.

"There can be no monopoly in the light car class," President John N. Willys said and followed with a statement that prices on the Whippet model will be "reduced by a striking margin on Jan. 6 which will place it in direct competition with the lowest priced cars on the American market."

The two big Chicago mail order houses, Sears, Roebuck and company and Montgomery Ward and company, yesterday sent out new price lists on many lines of merchandise, showing reductions in most items as compared with the latest catalogue prices. Such lists are sent out between the issuance of regular catalogues and quote lower prices on articles when market conditions permit.

Presidency of St. Paul Refused by H. E. Byram

New York, Dec. 29.—(AP)—H. E. Byram, formerly president and now one of the receivers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company, has advised the reorganization managers that he does not desire to assume the responsibilities of president of the reorganized company, and Henry A. Scandrett of Omaha, now vice president of the Union Pacific system, has been selected for the presidency, the Associated Press learned on reliable authority tonight. It is expected that Mr. Scandrett will assume his duties immediately on the approval of the reorganization plan by the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Byram, it is believed, will continue his connection with the property in the capacity of chairman of the board of directors.

Sheaffer Pen Co. Declares Extra Dividend of $2

Directors of the Sheaffer Pen company yesterday declared an extra dividend of $2 a share on the 194,680 shares of new no par stock following the approval by stockholders of a change in the capitalization from 9,734 shares of $100 par which was split on a 20-for-one basis. Directors of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western railroad declared an extra payment of $1 a share and Horn and Hardart authorized the usual 25 cent extra disbursement. International Paper company directors changed the date to Feb. 15 on which the regular dividend of 60 cents quarterly is to be paid and the stock of record date to Feb. 1.

WHEAT STRONGER EXCEPT ON DEC.; CORN IS LOWER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat showed a stronger undertone the greater part of yesterday, but the December weakened toward the last on the delivery of 533,000 bu on contracts and closed ¾c lower, while deferred futures were ⅝@¾c higher. December finished at $1.26¾, and May, $1.30⅝. Corn lost ⅛@⅜c on forecast for clear and colder weather, with December, 81⅜@81½c, and May, 89¼@89¾c. Oats finished unchanged to ¼c lower, and rye ⅜c higher to ¼c lower.

Sentiment was more friendly to the buying side of wheat, with rather persistent buying of the deferred deliveries by commission houses, shorts and local professionals, which readily absorbed the offerings. There was buying of futures here for the northwest against sales in the latter markets, and also buying of wheat against sales of corn. Selling against offers was a factor in checking the upturn.

Local traders who were on the buying side of corn the previous day were good sellers, and found demand less aggressive. Strength in wheat led to some buying, but the finish was within a fraction of the bottom. Outside trade was not large.

Local longs sold oats, and with the decline in corn a lower range was established, although selling of corn against buying of oats combined with strength in wheat caused a rally from the inside figures.

Rye prices held within a range of ⅛@¼c with a light trade. Export demand at the seaboard was slow. German crop is officially estimated at 351,000,000 bu, or 16,000,000 bu under the previous returns, and compares with 236,000,000 bu harvested in 1926.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat traders favoring the constructive side of the market made the point at the close yesterday that offers had been good for two consecutive days despite the slow market. They regarded the market as still oversold, and were especially satisfied with its action as it closed higher despite the break in corn.

The delivery of 533,000 bu wheat, largely No. 2 hard, on December contracts, most of it on the second delivery yesterday, brought out liquidation through a half dozen of the big commission houses in December contracts and depressed values, while the distant futures showed strength. There was buying of wheat here credited to Winnipeg, which helped to strengthen the market.

Corn traders were said to have taken corn on offers Wednesday, and sold it out yesterday, creating weakness and a decline in prices. December corn continues to come out from scattered holders. Cash interests, who recently sold December and bought May at 6c spread, were credited with selling December and buying May at 7⅛c difference.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Election of the following officers of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company was announced today by the board of directors: Controller, Clinton M. Finney, formerly controller and late vice president of the Worthington Pump and Machinery company; secretary, Warren H. Jones, assistant secretary of the company since 1911; assistant secretary, Edward J. Mulligan, who began his business career as office boy to George Westinghouse twenty-five years ago.

Christmas week sales of F. W. Woolworth company reached a record of $17,180,687, an increase of $3,061,495 over a year ago. Sales the day before Christmas were $4,118,202, a gain of $490,147. Company officials look for December sales of $44,000,000 and a year's total of $273,000,000, which would be nearly $20,000,000 more than in 1926. Stores now in operation total 1,589 and 84 chainware under lease for 1928.

The privilege of exchanging preferred stock of Goodyear Tire and Rubber company for first preferred on the basis of 1¼ shares of the latter for each share of the former will be accepted Jan. 1. Those exchanging will receive an increase in dividend income by reason of the additional shares issuable on the exchange.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat in all positions yesterday were finally estimated at 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 bu, largely Manitobas from the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, but included in the total was a fair amount of domestic winters and Duluth semiers. Bagdad, Greece and the continent were said to have been the buyers. Corn sales in the last two days were 100,000 to 150,000 bu. Demand for other grains was slow.

COTTON MAKES GAIN

Best prices on cotton were made shortly before the close yesterday. Liverpool later closed 5 to 7 points lower, with spot sales 7,000 bales. This did not prevent buyers in American markets from taking hold more freely and at the finish futures in Chicago were unchanged to 24 points higher with other markets 10 to 17 points higher.

Spots in New York gained 10 points to 20.10c with New Orleans up 5 points to 19.85c, while Houston was 19.80c and Galveston 19.90c.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Additional proof of the value of lengthening the layer's day by feeding chickens under electric lights has been brought out recently in tests with flocks at Columbia, Mo. Two state agricultural colleges flocks of fifty pullets each at the university farm demonstrated that costs in production can be cut by using lights.

In November the lighted flock produced twenty-nine per cent more eggs than the unlighted birds at a current cost of approximately 2.6 cents a day. In actual eggs the pullets fed under light laid 862 eggs in the thirty days compared to 667 eggs produced by the birds in the unlighted house. This difference of 195 eggs, or 16¼ dozen eggs laid by the fifty pullets, means $6.50 with eggs at 40 cents a dozen.

In a report of the test, R. R. Parks, an electrical engineer, said that when the birds were started on lights early in October, the production of the unlighted pen led for about two and a half weeks but that the birds became accustomed to the lights they led by far the unlighted pullets whose production decreased due to the shorted feeding day as winter came on. As in other tests it was shown that the longer feeding period on the lighted birds enabled them to eat more feed to build up their bodies and to store a surplus for the egg production. Parks believes that as long as the ration maintains the birds in good condition, the higher production during the more profitable months can be economically continued.

The Missouri station's experience will no doubt stimuate still further interest in using lights to lengthen the laying hen's day, but experienced poultrymen warn against lighting the chicken house to produce a day of more than fourteen working hours for the layer.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Cotton goods markets were firm today, with inquiries steady. Sales were less active than a week ago, although a fair amount of business was reported on bar sheetings and some of the print cloth numbers. The trade in finished lines is quiet. Burlaps were a shade higher in Calcutta and unchanged here with business of light volume. Garment manufacturers are becoming busier on spring lines.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Bar silver, 26⅛d per ounce. Money, 2¾ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 4⅜ per cent. Three months bills, 4⅛@4¼ per cent.

PARIS.—(AP)—Prices were active on the Bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 61 francs 70 centimes. Exchange on London, 124 francs 2 centimes. Five per cent loan, 81 francs, 95 centimes. The dollar was quoted at 25 francs 39¼ centimes.

ACTIVE TRADE IN BELLIES

A feature of the trading in provisions was the buying of around 1,500,000 lbs of bellies for May delivery, which advanced prices 25c, while January, although neglected, closed 17½c higher. Packers were the sellers.

Lard was traded in fairly, with sellies of January and buying of May a feature. Deliveries were 100,000 lbs on December contracts. Liverpool lard was 3d higher on spot, and unchanged on futures. Exports of lard were 476,455 lbs. and of bacon 714,750 lbs. Prices follow:

Further advances of 5@10c in light hogs, while butchers weakened, yesterday, brought the price range to the narrowest point since early last June. Extreme top moved down 5c to $8.80, with general average 5c higher at $8.50, showing a 30c spread, as narrow as any time since Feb. 3. Late in January, daily tops and averages were only 5@10c apart, about the narrowest on record.

Large local packers showed a marked preference for medium and weighty hogs, on the late weakness. Outsiders took 13,000, against 6,993 the previous Thursday. Hogs are gradually becoming heavier, which is seasonal at this time of year. According to the Union Stock Yard and Transit company, official weigh masters, Wednesday's receipts averaged 236 lbs., the heaviest since October, against 228 lbs., the previous Wednesday.

Eighteen dollar steers appeared on yesterday's bulge of the market, equaling the highest price since Dec. 13. Choice 1,388 lb cattle reached this line, with 1,255 pounders at $17.25. Few light cattle passed $15.00, the demand centering on beeves averaging more than 1,200 lbs. Receipts this week promise to total about 32,000, the smallest since 1921, due partly to the Monday holiday. Prevailing quotations are $1.50@2.00 above the low spot two weeks ago, when prices were forced down during the agitation against high priced beef in the east. Practically all classes of cattle shared in yesterday's strength. Calves advanced 50@75c. Bulls sold at the high-water price of the month.

Further declines carried medium and heavy lambs 75c@$1.00 under the high point of the week, while light and handy weights show 15@25c decline. Range of prices show a tendency to widen even more, due to the growing discrimination against lambs averaging more than 100 lbs. Fancy 77 lb averages topped the list at $13.85, with 31 pounders at $13.75. Bulk cleared at $12.75@13.50, and most weighty kinds at $11.75@12.50. Fall shorn averaging 96 lbs reached $11.00. Feeding lambs were in fair demand at $12.50@13.00.

PLAN 12 STORY BUILDING AT GRAND-FRANKLIN

BY AL CHASE.

With the leasing of the southeast corner of Grand avenue and Franklin street by John M. Berry to Charles F. Geiger, Joseph J. Duffy, and Daniel C. O'Connell for ninety-nine years, comes the announcement that a $1,000,000 twelve story loft building is to be erected for printing concerns. No architect has yet been selected.

The lease runs until March 27, 2026, and calls for a reported $650,000 for the ninety-nine year term. The property, 102x100, has old improvements, a three story brick factory and a two story residence. The lessees have an option to purchase within ten years at $140,000. Bradley, Williams, Harper & Farwell and John McInerny were attorneys. Charles A. Rice was broker.

Buy Fifteen Flat Building.

William and Emma Klinge purchased the fifteen apartments at the southwest corner of Irving avenue and Ainslie street, lot 50x125, from John and Bertha Marten and G. Hjalmar and Tina Swanson, for an undisclosed price, through the Lake View Real Estate exchange.

The eighteen flat building at 6153-55 Eberhart avenue has been sold by Thomas A. Elliott to Louis Tellkamp for a reported $100,000. Sylvester Fisher was broker.

Winthrop Avenue Deal.

The fifty-seven apartment four story building at 5143-45 Winthrop avenue, lot 75x150, was sold by the Winthrop Mansion Building corporation to Samuel Lanski for a reported $350,000, subject to $180,000. Mr. Lanski then transferred title to Meyer Katsman, who gave in part payment the southwest corner of Dempster and Crawford, 102x125.

Title to some Sheridan road property for Edgewater Beach hotel expansion has been taken by the Edgewater Beach Hotel company from Michael H. McGovern. The property is 600 feet south of Bryn Mawr avenue, 100 feet west front, extending east to the future west boundary line of Lincoln park.

An Unusual Opportunity

A national house in Chicago that does a large volume of underwriting and also participates in well known issues has an opening for two high-grade salesmen with capacities to distribute a sizeable volume of bonds at retail. Members of their present sales force have been averaging better than three-quarters points net to the men. This firm has an exceptional offer to make to men that have executive ability. All replies held in strict confidence. Arrange interview through
